The Founder of Lehigh

THIS year of 1916 will round out a half-century of the work of the Lehigh University. Just now, every event in its history, every name interwoven with its progress, must claim our special interest.

Back of all its stirring story, back of all its illustrious names, must always appear the strong, dominant figure, the quiet, resolute character of its founder, Asa Packer. The limits of a paper such as this can give but the merest outline of his career.

He was born in Mystic, Connecticut, on December 29, 1805. Compelled to work as a boy, his school advantages were extremely limited, and, at seventeen he left home, and walked all the way to Susquehanna County in Pennsylvania, where he learned the carpenter trade with his uncle, and was thus employed until 1833, when, learning that men were wanted to run coal boats on the newly-opened Lehigh Canal, he removed to Mauch Chunk, built a canal-boat, and engaged in the business of carrying coal to Philadelphia on the Lehigh Canal.

About 1836 he opened a store in Mauch Chunk and also, associating with his brother Robert, built canal-boats, engaged in the mining and shipping of coal from the nearby Nesquehoning and other mines, and entered upon a period of great prosperity. It was at the age of about forty-six that a great vision came to him—a vision destined to lead to the distinguishing work of his life. It was yet the day of small things in the anthracite coal trade, but he carefully noted the steadily expanding market, and his keen, business foresight suggested that with an inexhaustible supply of coal at one end of the valley of the Lehigh, and a practically unlimited market at the other, the one thing needed to connect the two was a railroad. Some years before, a charter had been granted to a corporation under the very general name of the Delaware, Lehigh, Schuylkill, & Susquehanna Railroad Co. The time limit of this charter had almost expired with nothing done. On Oct. 31, 1851, with characteristic promptness he bought up nearly all the stock and proceeded at once to procure additional subscriptions. In 1853 he changed the name of the old corporation to the Lehigh Valley Railroad Co. and began the work of building with great vigor.

Formidable and unforeseen obstacles were encountered, not only difficult problems of engineering, but, that year, the advance in labor, materials, and provisions, and especially the epidemic of cholera which visited the region, enormously increased the difficulties in his way. It was said that at one time his entire fortune was seriously imperiled.

With almost superhuman courage and determination the great work was completed and on June 11, 1855, the road was opened for passenger travel from South Easton to Allentown. On the 12th of September of the same year the first passenger train was run to Mauch Chunk, the train being operated with rolling stock borrowed from the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey.

1917 EPITOME 1917

After the Lehigh Valley Railroad was completed and Judge Packer had become one of the richest men in his state, another vision, greater, grander, came to him. It came as he remembered the meagre advantages of the district school of his boyhood, the grim struggle with poverty and the years of hard, unrelenting toil with which his whole life had been crowded. He sent for his friend and bishop, the Right Reverend William Bacon Stevens of Philadelphia, saying that he wanted to consult with him about doing something to help young men to get an education. Years afterward, as Bishop Stevens recounted to me that memorable interview, he described his great astonishment, when, in reply to the question as to how much Judge Packer wanted to give, the Judge replied "A half million dollars!" This was probably the largest single sum which, up to that time, had been given to education.

And so the institution was founded, fittingly taking its name from the busy valley which had been the scene of his struggles and triumph. The still larger benefactions which followed his initial gift—the steady growth from the little class-rooms of Christmas Hall to the great group of majestic buildings—the ever-increasing yearly output of young men trained and equipped for the business of life—all this is familiar history. It is specially gratifying too, to all those who can personally recall Judge Packer, that one boy whom he greatly admired and in whose welfare he was keenly interested is now the President of Lehigh.

I have read of an old Roman wall in England which has withstood the ravages of time for so many generations that the simple-minded peasantry of the neighborhood believe that it must have been reared by more than human hands. In building their own humbler structures they are said to be very careful to bring a bit of the old wall so as to insure to their own work equal stability and permanence. And so, as each Lehigh man goes out from his Alma Mater, should he take with him something of the courage, energy, and determination, something of the inspiration and example, of its illustrious founder.

William Suddards Franklin, M.S., Sc. D.

THE news that greeted us at the opening of the University year that Professor Franklin had resigned the Chair of Physics was probably the most important and certainly the most discouraging fact that marked our life at Lehigh. It is no exaggeration to say that the undergraduates and alumni were astonished that one of the most conspicuous Professors and emphatically one of the most stimulating members of the Faculty should retire without the slightest intimation of the reason without any explanation of its meaning, and without any significant comment. But we were all convinced that the University was all the poorer by the resignation of one who was recognized in the field of physical science as one of its foremost workers and who carried the name of Lehigh to all sections of our country.

Like so many of our eminent University men in this part of the Union Professor Franklin was from the West. Graduating from the University of Kansas in 1887 he studied at Berlin, Harvard, and Cornell, where he received the degree of Doctor of Science in 1901. Beginning as Assistant Professor at Kansas, then as Professor of Physics and Electrical Engineering at Iowa State College from 1892 to 1897, when he was called by President Drown to a similar Chair at Lehigh. From that year until 1903 Professor Franklin carried all the responsibility of the work done in the Physical Laboratory, when the work was divided and he became the Professor of Physics.

While at Lehigh Professor Franklin was active as an investigator and writer. Most of us are familiar enough with the textbooks that reflect his intellectual interests; but as a writer in the scientific journals and as a speaker at the different organizations representing American science he did an immense amount of work known at its real value by the scientific world. No article, no address, no letter ever so short but was marked by an originality of insight or freshness of view. But Professor Franklin never allowed his scientific interests to absorb his activities as a man and as a citizen. The entire field of education claimed him for its work; and no movement to improve the mental and physical side of our people appealed to him for support in vain. During the many years he lived in the Bethlehem Professor Franklin was in the van guard of those endeavoring to improve social and political conditions. When the final word is said, to him will be given the credit for starting the Children's Playground movement and all that goes under the phrase of wholesome recreation.

The University, the community, and the friends of nearly a score of years' standing will miss one of the most engaging personalities it has been their good fortune to know. Above all we will miss one who as friend and teacher put something into our lives that many a group of college-men will treasure as a great Lehigh gift. Wherever Professor Franklin goes his old Lehigh students know that that place while pleasant will never be to him what we were.

THE SENIOR CLASS

Senior Class History

WE are rapidly approaching the goal which has been our objective during the several strenuous years spent here at Lehigh, and, eager to put to the test the wealth of knowledge gathered during this time, we are concerned more with the future than with our past, historical though it may be.

Looking backward to the time when it was our fortune to enter here as freshmen we are astonished at our innocence, somewhat ashamed of our ignorance, yet marveling at the abundance of ambition and energy that dominated that collection of two hundred or more when Thorny proclaimed it the Class of 1916 and the old Chapel organ pealed out the strains of the Alma Mater we have since learned to love so well.

Our history since then has been little different from the classes which preceeded us. Most of it, altho sacred to us, has never seen the light and the historian is willing to let the dead past bury its dead. We banish such bromides as "It might have been," and "If I had it to do over again" with the mien of confirmed optemists. Our faults have been scribbled on the sands and our virtues are their own reward.

There are several events which have marked our path and even if we fight shy of post-mortems we cannot entirely crush our vanity. We have witnessed the passing of the antediluvian gymnasium, now the home of the Arts and Science department, and the upspringing of our modern athletic plant. Athletics in general, as well as scholastic achievements have established enviable records and we feel that we have made up in quality for what we lack in quantity. Our numbers have been greatly reduced by devious ways and each year has found old faces missing. The hand of the Great Reaper has twice been felt in our midst.

The past ten years have been the most progressive in the history of the University under the administration of our honored President, Dr. Drinker. His untiring efforts and careful guidance in the affairs of the University and of the student body at large have been important influences in the life of the Class and we will be proud to be able to graduate on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of our Alma Mater, striving to emulate the loyalty of the men who have made her famous.

IN MEMORIAM

CHARLES R. KEENAN
January 16, 1914

GEORGE W. SNYDER
June 3, 1913

George Bristow Adams, M.E.
Aberdeen, Md.

"Who's going to the movies?"

The usual calm of the quaint old village was aroused by the announcement of a new-born babe Havre de Grace was filled with joy—and Joe made his debut into Maryland Society. Leaving the town of his birth, he early adopted Aberdeen as his permanent residence—a wonderful city. The time spent at Tome was only a preparation for a more strenuous life at Lehigh. In September, 1912, George found himself away from home and "loved one." Why he was here he did not know, but the gigantic task of becoming an E.E. and at the same time maintaining friendly relations with the Southern Lady were too much. He turned his hope of the future to M.E., but would he, nor could he, be so rude as to sever diplomatic relations. As an engineer and letter writer he has proven himself efficient. Joe is at his best when relating his experiences in God's country. He never has been disloyal to his State, not to his associates. He will never be disloyal to Lehigh.

College Honors

Band, 1, 2, 3, 4; M. E. Society, Librarian, 4; Maryland Club; T. D. C.; Gun Club.

William Hamlet Alexander,
B.S. Biol.

South Bethlehem, Pa.

"Score one for Daniel"

Hoot you! Look who's here. "A muckle for a nickel and stung at that." "To be or not to be, that's the question." This spirit of William Hamlet was re-incarnated on the beautiful banks of the dirty Passaic at Paterson, N. J. We can now realize why "Hamlet" took a B.S. in Biology. He now has everything but the Biology. This was well illustrated when he talked the "Brown and White" board into giving him the managership. "Alex" preped at Philipsburg and South Bethlehem H. S. previous to entering Lehigh. He expects to follow medicine and hopes to be an M.D., which is not "mule driver." "Alex" is a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity.

College Honors

Sophomore Lacrosse; Bus. Mgr. "The Brown and White"; President, The Arts and Science Society; Treasurer, Der Deutsche Verein.

Leslie Allen, C.E.

Allentown, Pa.

"The world knows nothing of its greatest men."

This winsome young chap comes from Allentown, the city of girls and dances. He was born and reared there; educated in the public schools and at Bethlehem Preparatory School. His greatest claim to fame at the present writing is that they named the village from which he hails after him. Some of us doubt whether this is complimentary. Jack was graduated with honors from Bethlehem Prep., and has always maintained a high scholastic standing in college. His greatest ambition is to get a job, a wife, and then a home. Jack says "No quiet life for me."

College Honors

Tau Beta Pi.

Guy Ethan Alling, Ch.E.

Philadelphia, Pa.

"Say, where did you see Jim last?"

Guy and his cheerful disposition have kept all the girls from Philadelphia to Allentown in a flutter of excitement since the Autumn of 1912. Even when a broken leg confined him to the hospital he looked at the nurses and said: "It's all right with me." He can tell you about the doings of every minute of the last four years in the Bethlehems, as Summer School and he are inseparable. His best friends are "Shorty" Ullmann and Jimmie Matthews. He is a member of the Chi Psi Fraternity.

College Honors

Sophomore Cotillion; Calculus Cremation Parlor.

Charles Irving Anderson,
B.S. in Chem.

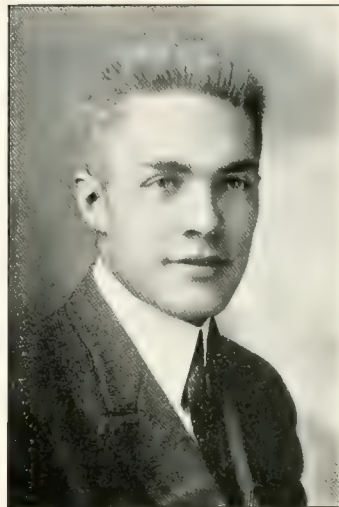

New Port, N. H.

"I take my fun where I've found it."

The New England speed demon was born in Millbridge, Maine, on July 23, 1888. He prepared for college at the Plymouth, N. H., High School, and then entered Bates College. Tom Keady found him immured in that institution and thought that one so talented as he appeared to be ought to be educated, so brought him to Lehigh with him in the Fall of 1913. He started to do things immediately. In the pitching box, he led the 1916 baseball team to victory over the Freshmen on Founder's Day. He has been an earnest student in college and his jovial disposition has made him a friend of all who knew him. Everybody says that one of the nicest things about him is the wife which he took unto himself last summer. He is a member of the Theta Delta Chi Fraternity.

College Honors

Sophomore Baseball; Varsity Baseball, '14-'15; Athletic Representative of Junior Class; Cyanide Club; Sword and Crescent Club.

Marlin Olmsted Andrews, E.E.

Coudersport, Pa.

"Who said impossible?"

Of his early life nothing is known. However, Marlin has always taken an interest in anything scientific. Even before he came to college he began contributing to scientific journals, and his interesting and instructive book, now on the shelves of Packer Memorial Library, in which he describes and explains his theory, of the Coudersport "ice mine." If it had not been for "Andy" and Esty, Lehigh probably would not have its present Wireless Station. As a speed fiend, he was the limit. It was never a safe place around the campus as long as "Andy" had a motorcycle or any other motor on wheels. Some day, maybe, he'll be president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers or the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity.

College Honors

Freshman Football Team; Football Squad, '12; Freshman Basketball Team; Sophomore Football Team; Sophomore Basketball Team; Rifle Team, '13-'14; Band, '12-'13-'14; Mgr. Band, '15; Orchestra, '12-'13; Secretary, Wireless Society, '13-'14; President, '14-'15; Electrical Engineering Society; Asst. Bus. Mgr., Epitome.

Russell Ingram Baker, Chem.

Lewistown, Pa.

"Nice day."

Doc joined our class in September, 1914, after having spent two years in the cold world. His genial disposition and smiling countenance helped to bear out his statement, "You'll like me better after you get to know me," and he soon became popular around the ivy-clad walls. That Russell will succeed is shown conclusively by the manner in which he promoted the Wrestling Contest for Chemists, by his grey eyes and his ability to adapt himself to any environment. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

College Honors

Freshman Baseball, Football; Sophomore Baseball, Football; Varsity Football Squad, '12; Sword and Crescent; B. U. X.

John Rainey Baush, El.Met.

Somerset, Pa.

"Well—don't know, schucks."

Who would ever have thought John Rainey first disturbed the silence of the world away out in Beaver City, Nebraska, in 1894; such, however, is the case. Later in life, gracing the Somerset High School of Pennsylvania with his willowy form, John prepared at this podunk for Lehigh.

Since his arrival at Mr. Lehigh's College, Johnny has been known, above all other things, for his "Sunny Jim" countenance, dispelling at once a whole army of glooms with his—"Well—don't know, schucks." John has been a regular sporting editor for the Brown and White during the past year, all the football and basketball write-ups flowing from his pen. In view of the consistent manner in which John has disposed of his curriculum as the years have passed a bright future certainly should await him as an electro-metallurgist. John is a member of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

College Honors

Chairman, Sophomore Banquet Committee; Junior Banquet Committee; Vice President, Junior Class; Associate Editor, The Brown and White, 3, 4; Sophomore Cotillion Club; Kappa Beta Phi; B. U. X.

Harold Frederick Bergstresser, E.E.

Emaus, Pa.

"It's a hard life."

The Emaus Demon or Electrical Wizard came to us in 1911, but was injured in a class scrap. He decided that the best was good enough for him so he joined the class which had been responsible for his injury. He was born and reared in Emaus. After being graduated from the high school of that place he attended Allentown Prep. for two years. There are no records as to where his musical ability came from, but it certainly came. His melodious voice may be heard in Chapel most every morning, and when the band is out, he is always on deck to toot his horn. His ability as an E.E. is somewhat of a question, but his winning manners should help him keep his job.

College Honors

College Orchestra; Choir; Vice Pres. E.E. Society; Glee Club.

Granville Spaulding Borden, E.M.

Tunkhannock, Pa.

"A wise man, one who has traveled far."

Simultaneous with the birth of one Granville Spaulding Borden, the village of Mehoopany, Pa., was put on the map. He resided there until he needed an education and then moved his family to Tunkhannock, Pa., which place he claims to be his home even at present. He prepared for Lehigh at Philips Exeter Academy, and was graduated from that institution in 1912. We found this apostle of "Billy" Sunday among us in the fall of 1912. We had the pleasure of his company for two and a half years. He then traveled through the wild and woolly West to put into practice some of the principles of mining engineering. Rip returned to college this year and will now complete his course. He decided the life of a student was much more pleasant than life around a cyanide plant. He is a member of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.

College Honors

Class Baseball, 1, 2; Minstrel Show, 1, 2; Band, 1, 2, 3; Glee Club; Cyanide Club; Sword and Crescent Club.

Donald Cameron Brewster, Bus. Adm.

Montclair, N. J.

"For when men's need is sorest, then come I"

"The Duke" wended his way to college from Montclair High School, situated in that well-known model town in New Jersey. Skilled in the art of basketball and diversions of like character, the pleasure of starting him right on the path of knowledge was given to the members of the class in "Commercial Geography." Brews soon became a true disciple to the idealistic views of "Baldy" Stewart on "business preparedness," and now we see him, the only man who can give offhand statistics on anything from the average rainfall of Oskotch to the price of stock exchange seats in the Stone Age. A German dictionary and a ballroom floor bothered him, but both have meekly submitted to his prowess. He is a member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity.

College Honors

Senior Vice-President; Capt. Freshman Basketball Team; Varsity Basketball; Epitome Board; Sophomore Cottillion; Scimitar; Kappa Beta Phi; Sword and Crescent; Hustling Committee.

Ellis Brodstein, B.A.

Reading, Pa.

"Watch your step."

Mid the clashing of symbols and roar of a regimental band, the future master of dance music was brought into the world in Philadelphia on January 4, 1896. Early in his youth, "Steve" moved to Reading in order that he might prepare for college at Reading High School. During his early years he acquired a taste for violin music and has carried that taste with him. We all agree now when he says "Kreisler has nothing on me." "Brody" never has allowed his studies to interfere with his music, so has always progressed very nicely in college. He is a member of the Pi Lambda Phi Fraternity.

College Honors

College Band; College Orchestra; Junior Oratorical Contest; Arts and Science Club; Deutsch Verein.

Albert Leonard Buell, M.E.

Hackettstown, N. J.

"One short, sweet breath of life, and then...."

Al first saw the light of day among the mosquitoes of Jersey. He attended the public schools of his native city, and, after graduating from the Hackettstown High School, entered Lehigh. He came here thinking it would make a good winter resort, and after staying a short time he also found it to be a good summer residence. He has further manifested his approval of the place by signifying his intention to remain here another year and expose himself thoroughly to the M.E. course.

Al's one passion has been to be a wrestler, and although not on the 'Varsity, it is rumored that he is a real champion at the parlor game. He is a member of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

College Honors

Phi Club; M.E. Society; New Jersey-Lehigh Club.

Duane R. Bundy, E.M.

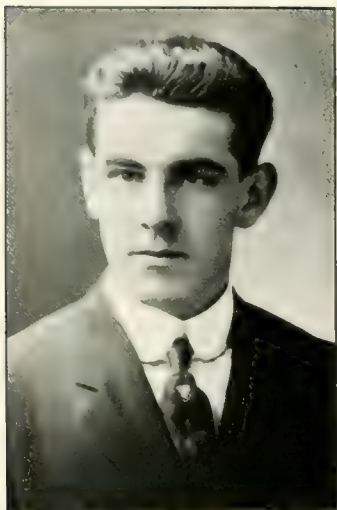

Philadelphia, Pa.

"Come to life."

Ohio is the state that is noted for its presidents; however, presidents are not the only great men of the world. If we were to read the columns of a Cleveland paper on August 1, 1892, we would see that Ohio was doomed to greater fame in the person of Duane R. Bundy, alias "Doc." Philadelphia next put in its claim and we find him at Central High School preparing for a higher education in the form of Mining Engineering. His dark view of life is accounted for in his motto, "Don't be carried away by the enthusiasm of the moment." Where he got his nickname of "Doc" is not known, but he has it, and "Doc" he has always been to his host of friends. From past performances we can predict nothing but a brilliant future for him. He is a member of the Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity.

College Honors

Successful application of the German University idea of attendance at Doctor Richard's Metallurgy lectures.

James M. Burke, B.S. in Geology

Wakefield, Mass.

"The Speed Demon."

The first written record of the life of Jim Burke contains these lines: "He cried, 'I can't return to my cradle, Mother, until I have done four more laps.'" From this you can see that he began to develop as a speed king at a very tender age. "Jim" is one of the few men who are born, reared and educated in New England who admits it and smiles. He had a rather diversified Prep. school course, having attended Wakefield High School, Worcester Academy and Powder Point School. He started his track career at Lehigh by cleaning up in the Founder's Day sports in 1912, and he has been carrying the Brown and White to victory on the oval ever since. Jim's unassuming manner and winning smile have won him a host of friends who are rooting for his future success as hard as they have rooted for him on the track. He is a member of the Theta Xi Fraternity.

College Honors

Relay Team; Freshman Football; Track Team, 1, 2, 3, 4; Captain Track Team, 3 and 4; Cyanide Club; Arcadia.

William A. Cannon, C.E.

Allentown, Pa.

"No, I think it's this way. For e'en tho' vanquished, he could argue still."

On November 28, 1892, Rockland County, N. Y., made its first contribution to the world in knowledge in the person of William Anthony Cannon. At a tender age he made his first step in a southwesterly direction to Allentown, Pa. After passing through the elementary schools of that city he, in September, 1911, went to Bethlehem Prep. Looking for "more worlds to conquer" after graduation from Bethlehem Prep. in 1912, he came to Lehigh to become a civil engineer. He entered with a flying start in September, 1912; he maintained the pace and thus acquired a great standing with Mac. His mental attainments have been fittingly recognized in his election to Tau Beta Pi in his Junior year. He is a good fellow, well liked by his brethren, "Slide Rule Mac's Disciples."

College Honors

Tau Beta Pi; Historian Sophomore Year; English Prize, Sophomore Year; C.E. Society.

Harry S. Carlson, Bus. Adm.

Montclair, N. J.

"Well!"

Harry Siegfried Carlson first saw light in this happy world of ours on a hot day in August, in the Year of Our Lord, 1891. His birthplace is marked down in history as being Montclair, N. J., a small town which has caused considerable comment by "Baldy." "Feet" came to these parts with the intention of becoming fitted for his life's work as a Business Man, and naturally his inclinations tended towards athletics. The record of his four years here prove beyond doubt that his efforts were not futile. If "Feet" can barter with stocks and bonds as well as he can eat up 440 yards on the track, he will be a second John D. some day. He is an ardent supporter of Baldy and his course, and with such a shining light ever leading him onward "Feet" should make Wall Street walk home. He is a member of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

College Honors

Varsity Track, '13-'14-'15-'16; Varsity Relay Team, '13-'14-'15-'16; Sophomore and Freshman Football Teams; Sophomore and Freshman Relay Teams; Football Squad, '13; Secretary, Business Club, '14; President, Interfraternity Bowling League, '16; Treas., '15; Sophomore Cotillion Club; Cyanide Club; Sword and Crescent; Athletic Committee, '16.

Oscar L. Carlson, Chem.

Montclair, N. J.

"Hi-i-ip" "Hi-i-i-ip!!"

Oscar L., better known as "Whitey" Carlson, rolled out of the cradle four years ago, packed his grip and started off for Lehigh. It wasn't very long before every man in college knew the little white-haired boy, and it was the general belief that he had mistaken this for a Prep. school. As years have rolled on, "Whitey" has grown considerably larger, and the record he has made while here shows that the local environment soon shaped him into a man. "Whitey" has always liked to make a lot of noise and succeeded in getting the student body to help him out, acting in the capacity of cheer leader. He is a hard worker and is ready to show the world what he can do. We wish him the best of luck and all believe that "Whitey" will show them. He is a member of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

College Honors

Nocona, Texas

"You can't find gold without a little prospecting."

"Chenie" was born in Nocona, Texas, October 13, 1892. When they put the railroad through Nocona he took the first train out. He told the conductor he wanted to go as far as his money would take him, and they let him off in El Paso. There he attended the El Paso Military Institute. Here is where he met no other than our own "Jim" Keady. "Jim" and "Chenie" were so amused at watching each other drill that they struck up a friendship. When "Jim" started for Lehigh, "Chenie" slipped in his side pocket and came along. Here he was welcomed as a member of the business course. His brilliant career here is well known. He is a member of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

College Honors

Freshman Relay and Football Teams, '12; Varsity Football Teams, '13-'14-'15; Varsity Baseball Teams, '12-'13-'14; Captain, '14; Cyanide Club; Sword and Crescent; Arcadia, '14; Variety Show, '15.

Edwin Archdall Clare, B.A.

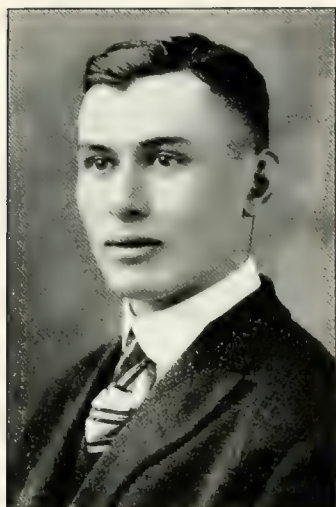

Elizabeth, N. J.

"Gee, ain't it cold."

There came in the Fall of 1912, from the village of Elizabeth, N. J., one to be known to us as "Eddy." Eddy received his elementary education at Pingry School, in Elizabeth, and then, after capturing all scholastic honors there, he looked for new fields of glory, so entered Lehigh. Since coming among us, his pleasing smile, gentle voice and ever-noisy banjo has made Eddy a welcome personage everywhere he goes, including Allentown and Catasauqua. During two summers Edwin has been chasing Jersey Swamp birds and reports an entire elimination of the pest from his native city. Mr. Clare expects to become an apostle of Blackstone and in that capacity will, no doubt, lead industrial cohorts to legal victories. He is a member of the Chi Psi Fraternity.

College Honors

Arcadia; Mgr. Baseball Team; 18 Club; Sophomore Cotillion; Kappa Beta Phi Scimitar; University Dance Committee; Lehigh Burr; Chairman Senior Banquet Committee.

Edward James Clark, M.E.
Catasauqua, Pa.

"He comes up smiling."

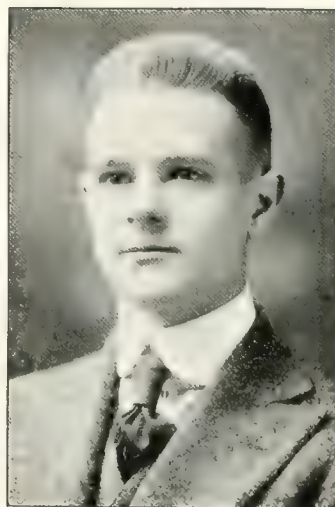

Yes, when we speak of Edward James Clark we cannot help but mention that bewitching, irresistible smile, which has been so prevalent during his four years' stay at Lehigh.

Born at Catasauqua in 1895, he obtained his mechanical instinct in the various iron foundries of that thriving town. For years Clark's nationality was a deep mystery. He sidetracked this point by winning the German prizes in his Freshman year; and this together with his Dutch habits, caused us to decide accordingly. However, during the recent war, we find him favoring the Allies, and, to our dismay, discover that he is a son of old Erin.

Clark has been an exponent in regards to modern dancing and style in general. His neckties are exquisite and demand much attention from the passerby, as well as the winter style set by him for heavy shoes with various trimmings. As to Clark's future we are doubtful, although for work he is a fiend. However, in general, we find him to be one capable of always starting a discussion, an elaborate discussion, sometimes bordering upon metaphysical ennui.

College Honors

Freshman German Prize; Williams Prize in Sophomore English.

Edward Jesse Clement, C.E.
Tokyo, Japan

"A little nonsense now and then."

Strange, did you say? Not at all! Although Eddie does hail from sunny Japan he does not resemble in the least the natives of the little empire. He is a product of that good old Republican State, Wisconsin, and he claims it was there in the city (?) of Beaver Dam that he resolved with all the ardor of youth to become one of McKibben's own. So, after graduating from Rochester East High School we found him here at Lehigh.

To see Ned angry would be the eighth wonder of the world, and his quiet, amiable manner has won him a host of friends during his four years at Lehigh. He has a habit of being in most everything around college and we can only see the brightest future in store for him. He is a member of the Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity.

College Honors

Mgr., Lacrosse Team; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Pres., C.E. Society; Asst. Editor, Brown and White; Class Book Committee; Chairman, Drown Hall Committee; Art Editor, 1916 Epitome; Chairman, Junior Banquet Committee; Sophomore Class Treas.; Mustard and Cheese; Soccer Team; Sophomore Cotillion; Cyanide Club; Sword and Crescent Club; Arcadia.

Charles Henry Cope, B.A.

Bethlehem, Pa.

"Full of a nature nothing can tame."

A reproduction of the face of the gentleman to whom this ode is dedicated, appears in the small square above. Dear Reader, glance at this handsome countenance and realize that it is a native of Bethlehem and again consider what a deluded youth he is for he admits this fact with a gleam of pleasure in his eyes. He was bright enough to win a scholarship to Lehigh, and says that is why he came. He sings well. His rolling basso may be heard on all the Glee Club recitals. Charles says that it is his only opportunity to don his claw hammer coat and plug hat so he must go to Glee Club Concerts. If he is lucky enough to get a job in June and manages it as well as he has his Glee Club concerts, why then he won't lack eggs for breakfast. With Stewart we can say, "We wish you well, Cope."

Arthur Cranston, E.E.

Johnstown, Pa.

"Some people make me tired."

We have Johnstown High School to thank for "King" Cranstown. This silent little chap slid into college and flowed gently along with the stream as we passed from Freshman through the rapids to the Senior Class. Nothing seems to worry him very much except the success of his spiels at the New York Hotel when those exponents of "education as it should be," known as the Kappa Beta Phi Club, meet for their monthly discussions. He is a member of the Theta Xi Fraternity.

College Honors

Electrical Engineering Society; Kappa Beta Phi Club.

Charles Woodbury Deans,
B.S. in Chemistry

Wilmington, Del.

"I'm sleepy, let's go to bed."

On September 18, 1894, there was brought into the world at New Rochelle, New York, one C. W. Deans, better known to us as "Chug." In his early youth he was dropped into Phoenixville, Pa., and there he was prepared for Lehigh. He drifted into South Bethlehem in September of 1912 and started to do things about that time. Principal among his accomplishments is being an ardent fusser and he has broken more hearts in Allentown than any three fellows in college. As a student of chemistry, he has never let his work interfere with his Allentown trips. Deans, with his winning smile and happy-go-lucky ways, has won a host of friends in college, all of whom can say, "Here's luck to you, Chug." He is a member of the Theta Delta Chi Fraternity.

College Honors

Scimitar Club; Sophomore Banquet Committee; Sophomore Cotillion.

Robert Newhart Diefenderfer, B. S.

"That's a darn shame."

There came to us in 1912 one Bob Diefenderfer, a relative by blood and inclination to Chemical Department "Dief." Since coming Bob's principal occupation has been studying bugs under the microscope and devising methods for wrecking bridges. At both jobs he has been wonderfully successful. His success in the world of work is an assured fact if he goes at his work with the same velocity and momentum that he went at the Allentown bridge. In spite of the fact that he is a Democrat, Dief has made many life-long friends in college by his winning smile and charming manner. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

College Honors

Freshman Basketball; Sec. Arts and Science Club, 3, 4.

John M. Downs, E.E.

Wharton, Pa.

"I'm here, go ahead with the music."

The youthful marvel of electrical engineering, known as "Jack" Downs, first breathed in Catasauqua, Pa. The sages of that village shook their heads and said: "'Tis a sad day for Catasauqua." When Jack learned of this he immediately moved his family to Wharton where his talents would be better appreciated. Jack seems to be taking a course in which ladies predominate at night and motors and circuit-breakers in the day time. His principal claim to fame is that "Steinmetz has nothing on me." He is a member of the Theta Xi Fraternity.

College Honors

Sophomore Banquet Committee; Calculus Cremation Committee.

Arthur Charles Eberhard, C.E.

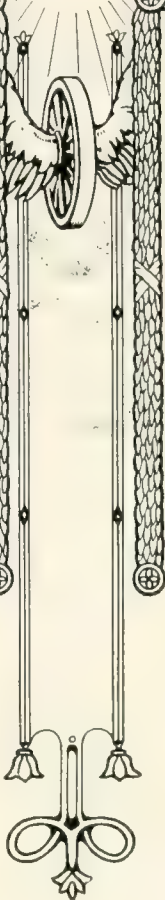

Allentown, Pa.

"Hey, kid! Must we—"

Born and reared in Allentown, this youthful prodigy, in some unknown manner, escaped the dialect! He was educated in the Allentown public schools and Bethlehem Prep. School, from which place he was graduated with honor in 1912. He joined the Trolley Riding Association of America in September of 1912 and entered Lehigh. He is one of the most active members of the above mentioned society, for his daily trips to the large town are as regular as a clock. The studious habits he acquired while "copping" prizes in prep. school were not lost when he came to college, and he has always been "among those prepared" when time for class arrives. We predict for this young man a beautifully successful future as a builder of bridges and railways.

College Honors

Tau Beta Pi; C.E. Society; Sophomore English Prize.

Harold Irvine Fair, B.A.

Brooklyn, N. Y.

"I don't know, Professor."

We have Brooklyn to thank for "Hal." He came to us determined to be a business man and a preacher. He has accomplished the former in capacity of Manager of The Burr, but it remains to be seen just how successful he may be in leading the youth of the country in the straight and narrow path. "Hal" prepared for Lehigh at Bethlehem Preparatory School and entered with the rest of this body of notables in the Fall of 1912. Since then he has always been active in all matters which have to do with the success of the Y. M. C. A. and oratorical contests. For Harold we can predict a brilliant future and we'll all be glad to hear of him as rector of one of Brooklyn's large churches. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity.

College Honors

Bus. Mgr. of "The Burr"; Calculus Cremation Committee; Junior Oratorical Contest; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet.

Joseph Anton Fisher, B.A.

Sayville, N. Y.

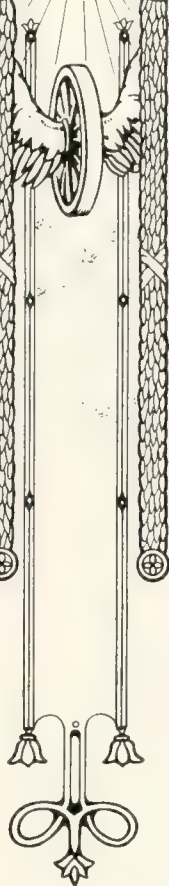

"You're too late for breakfast."

Joe was born in the Spring of 1895, in the little town of Sayville, N. Y., and so is a native of Long Island, from whence those famous "Blue Points" come. After graduation from Sayville High School he joined the illustrious Class of 1916 and became one of its most active and best-liked members. As dog trainer under the able tutelage of Freddie Ashbaugh he's a marvel, and as King George's Chief of Staff, he stands without a peer.

Bud is coming back next year as a P.G. Good luck, Bud! Bud is a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity.

College Honors

Junior Banquet, 3; Drown Hall Committee, 4; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, 4; Head Waiter at Commons, 3, 4; Custodian of Chronometer in Drown Hall, 3, 4.

Andrew Ellett Fleming, E.M.

Richmond, Va.

"Look before you leap"

"Ole" Sam left his native haunts in old "Virginy" in 1913 to find out what Lehigh knew about Mining Engineering. He soon found out and has been staying "right with us" in an effort to get some of the old stuff in his head. Sambo has worked hard in every way since coming to Lehigh and deserves very honorable mention in the old class chronicles. We always like to see a plugger, for he will be working along while the other fellows loaf, and get just twice as far. He is a member of the Singa Nu Fraternity.

College Honors

Sword and Crescent Club; Cyanide Club; Wrestling Team, 1915.

Theobald Forstall, Bus. Adm.

Montclair, N. J.

"Hello."

Theo, the Montclair burlesque critic, joined us in 1912, perhaps because he aspired to be a great business man, and perhaps not. Between you, me and Abie Kabibble, it was to get within striking distance of the 2d wheel burlesque. Theo says this wheel is much spicier and has better "Hootches" than the big-time ones. Well, he ought to know.

When the burlesque was run out of Allentown, Theo went to the University of Virginia for a term, but did not get anything but the "malaria" there, so he says. So after putting some new meat on his "Chicken-like" wings he flew back to us in 1914 to help run the Grand and Old Home Week Carnival. He is a member of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity.

Paul Jerome Ganey, C.E.

South Bethlehem, Pa.

"With jest and youthful jollity."

P. Jerome was born in the overgrown village of Philipsburg, N. J., near the seat of our ancient enemy. In boyhood he perceived the future greatness of Lehigh University and moved to the borough of "Soused Beslam." Here he received his wonderful intellectual start at Central High. On entering Lehigh they soon got his number as one who could hand it out pure and unadulterated. This served to get this jolly Irishman through his four years' grind. His future lies in the political intrigues of his adopted town, where, no doubt, he will achieve great things due to his pleasing and effective line.

College Honors

C.E. Society.

Eugene Willard Garges, C.E.

Doylestown, Pa.

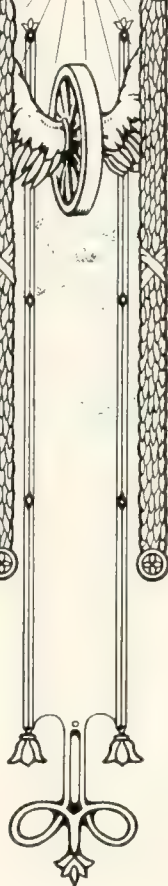

"If knowledge be the food of wisdom, teach on. With apologies."

If it were possible to transport ourselves back to that notable day of November 29, 1893, we would find the City of Brotherly Love filled with excitement and commotion. For on that day Eugene Willard Garges was born.

As soon as Googie was able to walk he displayed a marked interest in Engineering and ladies. After a short sojourn spent at Drexel he entered Lehigh. Here Rodney has steadily pursued Engineering with the exception of the few times that he has taken mental trips back home in the Fogg-y classroom.

Googie's little book entitled "Efficiency in Waist Place Cultivation," is a foundation of knowledge for all of Section A just before a house party, and even Rodney himself may be seen taking a peep at it before he puts on his own hat and departs for Allentown.

Rodney's knowledge of this little book, together with Philosophy and Bridges, should be all the start he needs to climb to the pinnacle of success in his chosen profession.

Louis Edward Grumbach, C.E.

Rockville, Conn.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you."

On November 29, 1891, there was a mighty upheaval in the little town of Housatonic, Mass., and when the storm had subsided, they greeted the new arrival as Louis Edward. However, this did not handicap the young fellow as the boys soon tacked on "Grummy." "Grummy" had not been in Housatonic long when he decided the name was too strenuous and moved to Rockville, Conn. Having finished the Public Schools at Rockville, Grummy, in his search for knowledge, entered Williston Seminary. Just to help pass the time he was made captain of his team and president of his class for two years.

Since entering college Grummy has devoted himself to football, creating havoc with the C.E. department, and instructing Freshmen in the path they should follow. His hearty good nature and infectious laughter have endeared him to all who know him. When asked for his Biography he laughed and said: "I've had a variously diversified and chequered career." His one hobby is poetry. Grummy is a member of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

College Honors

Varsity Football, '12-'13-'14-'15; Varsity Track, '12-'13-'14; Holder of College Record in Shot-put; Senior Class Athletic Representative; Cyanide Club; Sword and Crescent; Variety Show, '15.

Jacob Hagenbuch, B.A.

Bethlehem, Pa.

"Gee, that's fine!"

Jake came into our midst in the Fall of 1913 from Moravian College. His first visit was rather short and he returned at mid-years to the above mentioned Alma Mater. However, he has made a strong come-back and will graduate with his class.

The beginning of the European War saw Jake in Paris, and with a name like Hagenbuch! The result was he was taken for a German spy, but managed to get back to the United States, via steerage, in time for college.

He is best known around college as a dealer in stogies and as possessing one of the best voices in the Glee Club. He is a member of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity.

College Honors

Glee Club, 13-'14; Secretary, Glee Club, '15; Minstrel Show, '13.

William Christian Hartmann, M.E.

Bethlehem, Pa.

"I rose among the Thorns."

William C. Hartman, "Our Billy," was born July 26, '95, just across the "Ole Brook," in Bethlehem. He grew up a bright fair-haired child, with his eternal notebook and faraway look in his pale blue eyes. He attended Moravian Parochial School until his "Ma" bought him his first long trousers, and then he made his fatal mistake! He came to Lehigh to be an engineer instead of studying for the clergy. Why clergy? Well, William's only vice is the filthy weed.

But now to turn from the ridiculous to the sublime. Billy has been a good, consistent student. He has never reached the pinnacle of fame, but he has always been a long way from the bottom. The M.E.'s are glad he has been with them and all feel that he will some day carve his name (not on Bob's table), but on the Honor Roll of Lehigh's men. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

College Honors

L. U. Orchestra, 1, 2; 1916 Epitome Board, 3; Secretary, M.E. Society.

Stanley Earl Heisler, E.E.

Hellertown, Pa.

"I'm fat and good natured, but look out if I get pecked."

"Pop" Heisler, the grand old man of the Senior E.E.s, has had so many places of residence that I could not undertake to enumerate them here, due to lack of space. Sufficient to say is that he was born in Allentown on September 17, 1893. His travels gave him numerous places of elementary education. He finally landed at Dickinson Seminary from which place he claims to have been graduated. Upon entering college, "Fairy" adopted Hess as his mentor and by their mutual efforts Hess has done some great scholastic work, and "Heavy" has succeeded in getting his 10 hours every term. If the E.E. profession fails him as a source of income, "Fairy" can always fall back on choir leading or wiring contracts for his daily wherewithal.

College Honors

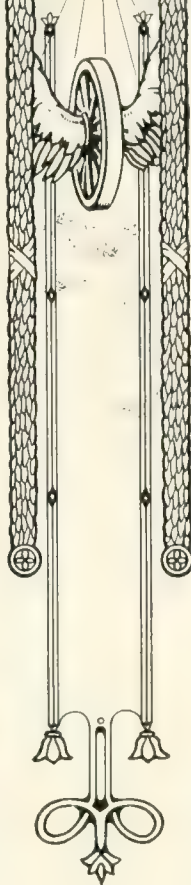

Sophomore Football Team; Treasurer E.E. Society.

Douglass Henderson, M.E.
Philadelphia, Pa.

"And I loved his auburn hair."

"Doug" joined the class of 1916 this year. He came to us to be enlightened in his chosen calling, Mechanical Engineering. He was graduated from Philadelphia Central High School in 1910, and then entered Drexel. From that institution he had acquired so much knowledge by 1915 that he started to teach, and only then did he feel the need of the training that only Lehigh can give. So very wisely he came to South Bethlehem this fall to study figures in the sixth dimension under Pop Klein. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity.

Asher Freeman Hess, E.E.
Quakertown, Pa.

"Don't worry, it shortens your life."

Asher was born in the wilds of Bucks County, but you would never think it to look at him. He appears perfectly harmless. At a very tender age, he was thrown upon the world as a graduate from Quakertown H. S., and began his active life by teaching school. He prepared for college at Temple University Night School and entered in the Fall of 1912. He is one of the prides of Beautiful Bill's heart, because of his consistent application to his work. Friend Hess has proved himself to be a mental gymnast of no mean calibre.

College Honors

Second Prize, Freshman Mathematics; Wilbur Scholarship; First Honors, Sophomore Physics; President, E.E. Society.

Robert Holiday Hicks, E.E.

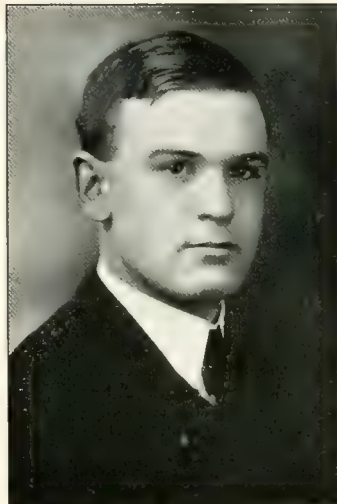

Govans, Md.

"Whatever you do do as well or better than anybody else."

It seems rather incongruous for a man to have a motto like the one above and still have a "holiday" all the time, doesn't it? Well, there's only one man in the class who does and that is our old friend "Hixey," and that is why we are proud of him. He has enjoyed his holiday ever since coming to Lehigh to the fullest extent and incidentally copped a degree from our old friend "Bill." It is needless to say more. A man who can do that shouldn't ever have to worry about making last year's suit do for this year.

College Honors

Junior Prom. Committee; Senior Hop Committee; Cheer Leader; Hustling Committee (ex-officio); Wrestling squad.

John Balmain Hill, E.M.

Roland Park, Md.

"I love a piano."

Good old J. B. is one of those "better late than never" boys from B. P. I., but he doesn't go around college with that "BOMBASTIC PEDANTIC IT" noticed in some of the recruits from this well reputed institution of learning. John Balmain, for as such he is known and called by some of the elite, has had a most successful career at college with little work and much leisure time, which he improved poorly in at least one instance, when he was induced to play the piano for the Pony Ballet in the Variety Show of last year. Aside from that we must admit that John is a pretty good scout and we feel sure that he will succeed if any one does. He is a member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity.

College Honors

Vice President, Maryland Club, '14; Variety Show, '14-'15; Junior Prom. Committee; June Hop Committee; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Chief of Section E, Dormitory.

Charles Alger Hiss, E.E.

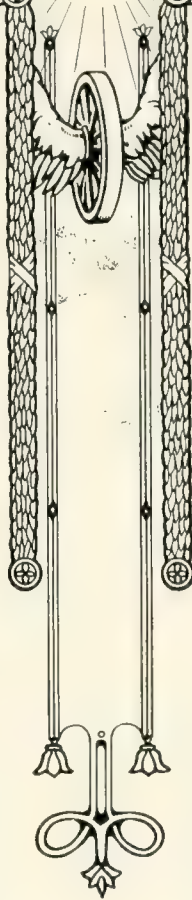

Baltimore, Md.

"Hark ye, Lord Charles approaches."

In the month of November, first day, year of Our Lord 1893, the Baltimore wiseacres all smiled and said: "'Alger,' the wise and wonderful, has come among us." Charles prepared for Lehigh at Baltimore Polytechnic Institute. Like many of his cohorts from the preparatory school, he decided to become an apostle of Bill Esty. He did and at the present writing there isn't a man in the country who can throw a circuit breaker more efficiently than "Alger." He made the wrestling team and his ability to tackle tough propositions insures his future success as an Electrical Engineer. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity.

College Honors

Wrestling Team; E.E. Society; Maryland Club; Intercollegiate 135-lb. Wrestling Champion, 1916.

Frederic Laurent Horine, Chem.

Columbia, S. C.

"There is a cold gray dawn after every red-hot night"

The "Kid" stuck his flaxen head into this world in that "little place" called Philadelphia. After residing there until his first tooth came his mother tucked him under her arm and took her "Kid" to Charleston, S. C. He stayed there long enough to get the accent and then he returned to his birthplace. While here he distinguished himself at the Philadelphia C. H. S., but not from the standpoint of energy, for our "Kid" is about as lazy as they are made. Having heard of Lehigh he decided to wander thither. While here his residence was again changed to Columbia, S. C. After leaving Lehigh, he hopes to show the Germans that they don't have all the good chemists.

College Honors

Vice President, Chemical Society, senior year; Largest consumer of P.A. in college.

Sheu-Chin Hsu, Met.

Chekiang, China

"Better do it than wish it done."

Hsu was born in 1891 at Songlin, China. After his graduation from Chekiang Provincial College he was sent abroad by the Governor. He arrived in America in 1914. His interesting study here is the Engineering Laboratory, where he has done a lot of research work. He insists that the gas engine runs too fast to take an indicator diagram. As he is a Met., his ambition is, however, to design a blow furnace for "Prahleri."

College Honors

President, Chinese Students' Club, '15-'16; Member of Board of Representatives, Chinese Students' Alliance, '15-'16; Junior Member, American Institute of Mining Engineers.

Edgar Carroll Hummel, E.E.

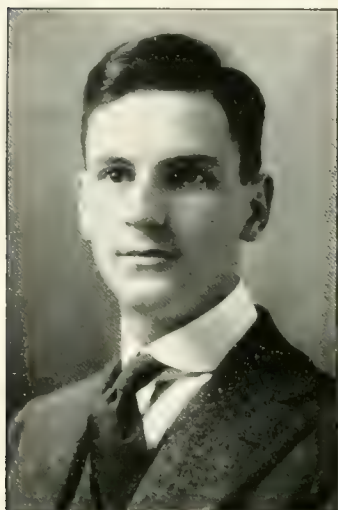

Hummelstown, Pa.

"Play square and go half way."

Hummelstown — where's that? We wonder how many times old "Cupe" has been asked that question. Well, no one knew until he was ushered in with the class of 1916, and then it didn't take 'em long to find out that some mighty good men come from obscure (?) places on the globe. We'd like to believe his story of how he acquired the name Cupid—but we can't—we think there was another reason. Any one who knows him at all will tell you why. But, overlooking his weakness in this line, we are willing to bet our last rock that he will land a mighty good job in the big world after leaving our little world here.

Bruce Meixel Jones, M.E.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

"Gimme another indicator card."

There is a day in the annals of the hard coal country and Scranton which looms up brightly in the memories of the sages of that region. On that day "Buddy" Jones first disturbed the quiet and calmness of his home by his "bawling." He could not be quieted until he received a copy of Klein's Machine Design, and then an angelic smile spread over his countenance, and he slept. When he grew a little older, he mastered all that Harry Hillman Academy has to offer, and then came to Lehigh for further enlightenment. He received an injection of typhoid at the Commons last year and was compelled to drop out of college for a term. However, he will annex the sheepskin next year, and will be a credit to Pop Klein's department. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity.

Guy Roche Johnson, E.M.

South Bethlehem, Pa.

"The Star of Bethlehem"

In Guy we have one of those exceptional cases of combined good fellowship, brains and a charming disposition. He came green from the South to dear old "Prep," then, when he had worried "Pop" Foering long enough, he sojourned again for a year in southern climes—at the University of Alabama. We believe that is where he got all his bad habits—smoking "Piedmonts" and drinking "Coke." After a year's resting in this baleful influence he condescended to allow Lehigh to reflect his glory. Since he arrived he has had but one black mark—he flunked "Amer. Lit." After that shock the only thing that worried him was "Gym." If any one ever saw him do anything energetic, they never told the world. However, as a fusser and a social bug he gets a ten,—that is lots of exercise. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity.

Everett Sommerville Johnston, Bus. Adm.

Newburgh, N. Y.

"'Tis his winning smile that conquers."

"Sonny" first saw the light of day in the village of Newburgh, up the Hudson, and after mastering the local offering in education came "down the river" and up the Monocacy, wishing himself on Lehigh in the Fall of 1912. Being of rare foresight, he enrolled in the business course, and altho at first viewed dubiously by Baldy, the Little Napoleon, his persistency soon gained the general's favor, and now we see him one of the cornerstones of his course. His wholesome wit and his beaming nature made him the Big Noise of the "Life" of Lehigh, and his million-dollar smile is always a winner. We make no predictions for his future—we don't have to. Success is his middle name. He is a member of the Chi Psi Fraternity.

James Edward Keady, Bus. Adm.

Wakefield, Mass.

"A man's a man for a' that."

Big-hearted as he is big, Jim came to us in the Fall of 1912. Immediately upon entering college, he began to do things, and has been doing them ever since. He prepared for Lehigh at Exeter and Lawrence Academy and entered here as a disciple of one canny Scot known as "Baldy" Stewart. His stay at college has enlightened the lives of many of us, for Jim's great heart has taught many what generosity and human sympathy really mean. He is a member of the Theta Delta Chi Fraternity.

Hubert Deans Keiser, C.E.

Tacony, Philadelphia, Pa.

"A silent man—one who thinks and does much."

Coincident with the birth of Hubert Deans Keiser, on April 23, 1893, Tacony, Philadelphia, was put on the map. Here he lived until his thirst for knowledge and ambition led him to prepare for college at the renowned Central High School of Philadelphia. The momentous question of where to go to college was finally decided, and in September, 1912, the authorities of Lehigh were gladdened by the entrance of this phenomenal scholar.

As a Civil Engineer, "Doc" will undoubtedly be a success, for he is not only a good student, but an energetic worker, with great executive ability. He is a member of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

Ellison Lawrence Kirkhuff, C.E.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

"Silent perhaps, but thoughtful all the while."

March 15, 1894, was a windy day, and on this day a bit of humanity was blown into Wilkes-Barre in the person of Ellison Lawrence Kirkhuff. After eighteen and a half years, the wind took a notion to move this mite, and as a result Kirk landed in South Bethlehem. For four years he has struggled with the books—and the girls—but the day will soon come for the wind to pick up its freight once more.

"Kirk's" athletic ability began to develop when he was still in kilts. He was quarter-back on the Wilkes-Barre High School football team, but when he came to Lehigh he decided that wrestling was his game. Any one who has seen him practicing his art cannot deny his extraordinary ability on the mat or off. "Kirk," in conjunction with his success as an athlete, has made a good record in his scholastic work. He is a member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity.

Herbert Benjamin Knox, Jr.

"Atrophied in stature, but hypertrophied in mind."

Reports from "somewhere in Ithaca" tell us that the world first trembled at Herb's critical gaze on November 27, 1893. Spending his younger days in the social center of Philadelphia, namely, Germantown, Herb thrived in the atmosphere of country clubs, the dansants and other attractions of the not too strenuous life.

Finally arriving at Lehigh via German-town Academy, Herb enlisted with the civils in their four-year siege against the various departments. Some of us were destined to be beaten back, however, in the conflict with the combined powers, and Herb was forced to make his retreat in the sophomore year during the attack on the math. department. Shifting his mobile forces from Lehigh to Cornell, we have been informed that Herb has at last found the vulnerable point in the enemy's battle line, and will in all probability soon greet us in the world outside with a "dip" in his hand.

Well, here's hoping to see you soon, "Bunny." He is a member of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity.

Wilmer Horace Koch,
B.S. in Chemistry

South Bethlehem, Pa.

"Did you ever hear this one?"

There was wished upon us in September of 1912 one Pete Koch, Jr., son of the dispenser of books. Pete was born and reared in South Bethlehem, and from what he says, he has had enough of this burg and is ready to migrate to some place where his ability and musical voice will be better appreciated. Wilmer has never permitted his studies to interfere with his social activities, and as a result he is rated among the best pool players in the college. He can be found almost any night "chalking up" at Elmer's or Kelley's. "Kochy" lays claim to being the most graceful man in college. He bases his claim on the fact that his motions in front of a cheering section are perfectly rhythmical and harmonious.

Albert Sommer Konselman, E.M.

New York City

"System is the mother of Success."

As all Americans know, there are real counts and bogus ones who blow into New York City. The person whose beaming countenance is pictured above is one of the real type. He entered Lehigh after being graduated from Cooper Union and began to accomplish what had been thought impossible. He passed all work required for his E.M. in three years. Need more be said regarding him? The pleasant part of him was that his college work never interfered with his ability to make friends. At the present writing "Count" is in Mexico subduing greasers and taking precious metals from their hills. To him we raise our glass and say "Success!" He is a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity.

"Join the Army"

As the golden glow of the Bessemers of Schwabland cast their dying reflection across the skies on the evening of that wonderful day of September 11, 1895, South Bethlehem was doomed to fame, for General Miles, better known as Unk, had arrived. As a youth it was his favorite pastime to throw snowballs along Packer Avenue until the time came when South Bethlehem High School saw fit to turn him over to the fate of mechanical engineering.

He is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity.

Kenneth Alfred Lambert, E.M.

Bethlehem, Pa.

"Hey, Eddie!"

When, as Boscay would say, "the sun descended into the golden West," on the eve of that now famous day, June 25th, 1895, another great man had piped the light of the wicked world in the little town of Bethlehem.

Fearful of leaving the aforementioned religious atmosphere, when the time came for choosing a prep school, he immediately decided on Bethlehem Prep. On graduation, a few years later, a flock of scholarships, honors, etc., followed him.

After a typical deliberation, he decided a change of air would be good for him, so he deigned, after much urging by the President, to honor Lehigh with his presence. Much to the surprise of his parents, who don't see how he did it, he has stuck here ever since. Gentlemen—Mr. Lambert—Ta-ra-ra—— He is a member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity.

Leicester Hodges Lancaster, M.E.

Waterbury, Conn.

"Hey, feller, did you pay your dues?"

Leicester H. Lancaster was thrust upon the unsuspecting world one lovely day in May, 1892. In 1912, after a strenuous high school career, he slipped past the Waterbury "Watch" man and entered Lehigh. After four years here he is ready to duplicate the work of Cæsar. The first part of his name is evidently for state occasions only, as he is known as "Scoop" thruout the campus world. As to the origin of his nickname there is some doubt. Some say it was suggested by his likeness to the cub reporter, while others insist that it owes its origin to Lancaster's national emblem, the shovel. Anyhow, with him spades are trumps. Besides, he is a real Yankee, with a disposition naturally kind and always bubbling over with the youthful effervescence of good nature. He is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity.

Robert Thomas Lerch, A.B.

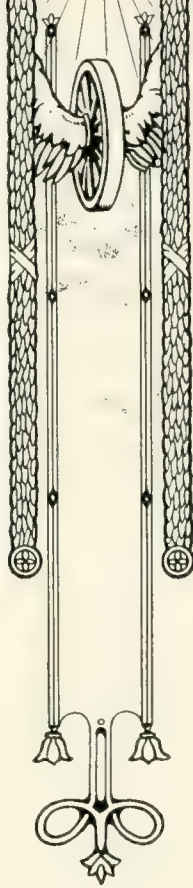

Bath, Pa.

"He gives his beloved rest."

On May 11, 1895, there was born in Mauch Chunk, Pa., one Bobby Lerch. The supply of knowledge at Mauch Chunk was rather limited, so Bobby hiked down the river to Easton and attended the prep. school which bears his name in that village. He claimed that he lost weight working so hard there. Some one told him that there were nice, comfy chairs in Drown Hall, so Robert decided that would be a most pleasant place to spend four years, and hence came to Lehigh. After much sitting around, he hopes to have a B.A. degree wished onto him by the faculty in June.

Herbert Leslie, M.E.

South Bethlehem, Pa.

"Oh, Eddie!"

The fact that Herb discovered himself in the bullrushes along the Amazon does not say that he decided to emulate his worthy predecessor of the Nile, nor does it imply that he was destined to be a "torreadore" and shout "Vive la Republique!" His fine tenor voice has been put to a better use in the Mechanicals' Summer School Sextette or rooting loyally for the Big Brown Team of his Alma Mater.

Herb has been a true exponent of real college spirit, and those of us who knew him will always remember him as a friend, generous to the extreme and loyal to the end—a good fellow whom we speed to his new position in life with wishes of success and happiness. He is a member of the Theta Xi Fraternity.

Louis Maurice Levin, C.E.

Trenton, N. J.

"I love; ah, yes, I love again."

Our hero burst in all his splendor upon this terrestrial globe on the 22d day of October, 1894 A. D. He early displayed rare judgment, by speedily making his exit from that town of political corruption and stale booze and coming to Lehigh. As an athlete he shines, especially when the ladies are looking. His suave manner and Hart, Shaffner & Marx figure soon made him an idol among the Dutch maidens of the Lehigh Valley. There is only one thing we have against him: that is, he is fickle. Every point which his feet have trodden—which, by the way, are far from petite—has felt the influence of this gay Lothario. If he can succeed in escaping from the wiles of the aforesaid and above-mentioned maidens—which we doubt—a bright and illuminating future awaits him. He is a member of the Pi Lambda Phi Fraternity.

Prowell S. Mack, E.E.

Hummelstown, Pa.

"A merry heart doth good like medicine."

"Truth crushed to earth will rise again." We used to believe him when he said he was from Harrisburg, but recently we have found him out. He's from Hummelstown, which tiny metropolis, nestling upon the green banks of the Swatara, consists primarily of the town pump and the village green. When he reached Lehigh he decided to become a disciple of Steinmetz, and has, indeed, become a worthy one. When it comes to throwing in and out circuit breakers, "Gunny" is right there. He learned how to do it at Harrisburg Tech., and since then his efficiency along this somewhat dazzling line has reached 100 per cent. However, he has a beautifully optimistic nature, and in view of this fact we do not hesitate to prophesy a successful future for him.

Louis Mardaga, M.E.

Baltimore, Md.

"Now let me see."

Yes, Louis is from Baltimore. Like all good, healthy Baltimoreans, he blew his first fuses at the Baltimore Polytechnic Institute, graduating from there in 1910. Then, being naturally patriotic, he secured a job from Uncle Sam and spent three years at Annapolis. Finally he joined us in 1914, and proved himself a veritable howitzer for cracking tens out of all sorts of quizzes, Thermo, mysteries in particular. All in all, Louis' career has been a Carnot cycle, and we know he will save all the B. T. U.'s he can when he gets out.

Stanley Martin, E.M.

Kingston, Pa.

"He barks loudly, but doesn't bite much."

Dear reader, glance above at this inscription and take a slant at the map there portrayed. Yes, that is Stanley. He hails from the hard coal country and used to think that his disposition was similar to the products of his home district, but four years of college have proven to those who know him that this is entirely a mental delusion. His pleasant manner at once dispels any gloom which may prevail, and his wonderful smile warms the coldest of hearts. Stanley was never known to worry over anything. He has made a wonderful name for himself as a wrestler, and when he grapples with a job, here's hoping that the same success attends him there that followed him thru his many battles on the mat.

James Bennett Matthews, Ch.E.

New Castle, Pa.

"Well, I should rise to remark."

Nestled far away in the hills of Western Pennsylvania, wreathed in a perpetual halo of soft coal smoke, lies the village of New Castle, Pa. October 4, 1894, was a momentous day in the history of that city, for on that day Jim came to life and began doing things to upset the equanimity of the world. He mastered all the elements of education in the New Castle public schools, and then sought South Bethlehem, looking for more worlds to conquer. In spite of the similarity between Matthews and Mathematics, he never seemed to master the latter very well, and spent some time at several summer schools trying to get better acquainted with Math. No predictions can be made as to his future, but some one has said, "He is certainly a versatile young man," so that augurs well. He is a member of the Theta Delta Chi Fraternity.

George A. McHugh, M.E.

Hazleton, Pa.

"Napoleon was a little man; even so am I."

A Lehigh Valley train stopped, and the conductor helped a little fellow off. His parting advice was: "Be a good boy and study hard, Shorty." Up to the present writing, the youth portrayed above has followed that advice.

George was graduated from the Hazleton High School in 1912 and decided that his education there had been incomplete, so came to this institution of higher learning to become a disciple of Pop Klein. He is an ardent exponent of "engineering as it should be," and has dedicated his life to bring the rest of the world to his point of view.

This quiet little man has flowed peacefully along with the stream of college years, and when June arrives and he passes into the world of work we trust that his course will be as smooth and pleasant as his college days have been.

College Honors

Joseph A. Meredith, B.A.

Allentown, Pa.

"He who toots not his own horn, the same shall remain untooted."

The mental prodigy about to be described started his career in the City of Friends on November 14, 1892. He prepared for Lehigh at Reading Boys' High School and entered in the fall of 1912, just to show what could be done in the line of high scholastic attainments. During the first two years he annexed about all the prizes possible for good work in scholastic lines and has been living up to the reputation then established ever since. "Merry" is one of the greatest mental athletes who ever entered Lehigh. It may well be said of him, "He came, he studied, he earned his college degree."

College Honors

William Barth Miller, C.E.

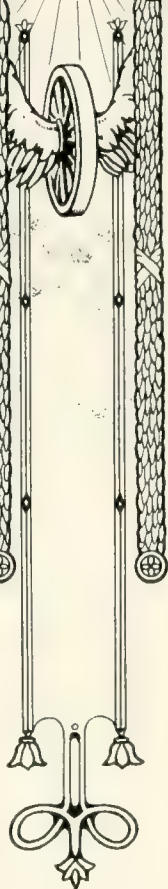

Kent, O.

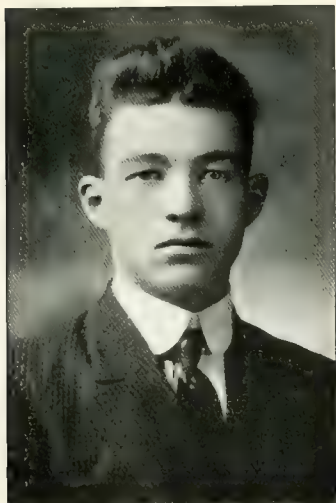

"Never had that trouble before."

To be born in Chicago, near the great stockyards, is the first great honor bestowed on Bill. He did not linger long around common stock, but in early youth learned of preferred stock; i. e., railroad stock. As a railroader Bill knows everything about the Erie from the smallest spike to the largest locomotive. He can beat any college professor telling railroad stories. "Railroads" is not the only thing he knows, as Bill soon showed Mr. Lehigh's college that there was "somebody home." But forget about work and think about fun is Bill's great idea. He can dump a bed, tie up a room or break a door in expert fashion. All his fellow sufferers know he is meek and innocent. He is Innocence Personified.

Charles Elwood Moyer, C.E.
Bethlehem, Pa.

"'Eat, drink and be merry,' for to-morrow we take a quiz."

Charlie was born May 2, 1895. In order to be sure of his being a "C.E." they named him Charles Elwood. He must have imbibed some of the sunny atmosphere immediately, for he has been a jolly, good-natured cuss ever since. Although born in Tamaqua, he soon came to Bethlehem, where he caught the spirit of that remarkable educational community. He "prept" at the "school that prepares more men for Lehigh than any other preparatory school," and then entered Lehigh with the present Class of 1916. However, Charlie likes the college so well—probably because he lives in such close proximity—that he has decided to instruct the Faculty for another year. Good old Charlie, the fellow with the smile, may he always be successful in his business life, as he has been in making friends during his college life. Charlie has two hobbies—civil engineering and temperance lecturing. He is a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

Louis Goldthwait Mudge, Ch.E.
Baltimore, Md.

"Gee, I'm tired."

Midst the tussle and roar of the Maryland metropolis, on July 1, 1893, there was born one L. G. Mudge. He received his early training in the Baltimore public schools and then went to Friends' School. He hit South Bethlehem in September of 1912 and entered college with one purpose, and that was to get his degree. However, this wonderful idea was soon sidetracked, because outside influences were brought to bear. What these influences were it is not necessary to name, but look around some time and draw your conclusions. "Louis" has always taken a large part in college activities, and many undertakings have been made a success by his efforts. If he can stick to his job and apply himself as assiduously as he has done in college, we do not hesitate to predict for him a successful and brilliant career. He is a member of the Sigma Phi Fraternity.

College Honors

Caleb Temple Murphy, Bus. Adm.

Charlestown, W. Va.

"The three links Murphy, Maiden and Motor."

On September 25, 1892, in the small city of Green Bay, Wis., the seventh wonder of the modern world struck this earth in the form of "Abie" Murphy. Shortly after he decided to remove himself to Charlestown, W. Va., where he still claims to live. (Somebody said that he lies). After many years of toil he entered Lehigh in the E.E. course and instructed the Profs. in that department. He noticed that Baldy and his Business Course needed him, and he immediately changed. When he is not kidding Baldy along he is driving around in a Cadillac. It's a hard life, and he acknowledges it himself. He is a member of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.

Stillwater, Minn.

"Well, out West -"

George left the twin cities, where he had been a big man at the University of Minnesota, and came East to the culture of Pennsylvania. Failing to be impressed by the provincialisms of Muhlenberg, he came to Lehigh and, rolling up the sleeves of his football jersey, proceeded to show what the West could produce. Between seasons he has been seen to the best advantage dodging the compliments of the audience at the Mustard and Cheese productions. He is a member of the Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity.

Charles Elmer Paules, C.E.

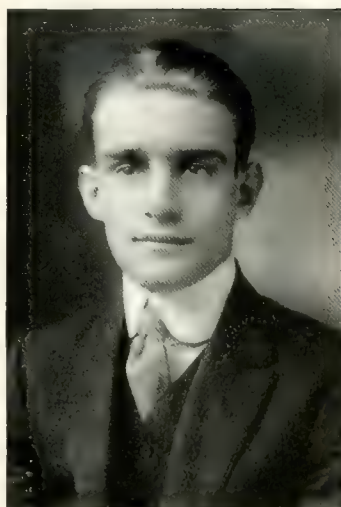

Marietta, Pa.

"Immersed in rap'trous thought profound."

On a blustery day in March, 1895, Charles Elmer Paules made his debut in this cruel, cruel world. Six years later we find him attending the public schools of Marietta, where he displayed such scintillating brilliancy that he was graduated with honors. Charley then entered Franklin and Marshall Academy, and in one year had devoured all that institution had to offer in the educational line. So it came to pass that one day in September, 1912, he presented himself before the gates of Lehigh University to acquire a degree in Civil Engineering. During his four years at Lehigh Charley has managed to hold a high rank in all his classes and at the same time to devote a large portion of his time to explanations of the mental gymnasts in Wilson's Railroads to some of his satellites. Charley is a member of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

College Honors

Frederick David Powers, Ch.E.

Glen Ridge, N. J.

"A true disciple of ye olde battledore and shuttlecock."

Frederick David Powers, better known to us as "Hap," first saw the light of day on January 22, 1893, in the village of New York. In this city "Freddy" hadn't tennis courts enough, so early in his youth he migrated over the river to Glen Ridge. Here 'mid Jersey's beautiful swamps and hills he prepared for the Lehigh tennis team and studied occasionally in case an entrance exam. might loom up on the horizon and mar his chances for entering college. He came to Lehigh in the Fall of 1912 and since then has been dazzling us with his marvelous "strokes" and "exceptional form" on the clay courts in front of Physics Building. "Hap" selected Ch.E. as his course because he thought it would allow him plenty of time for tennis. When Fred leaves college, let the world beware, because he will spring something new in the engineering circles that will revolutionize civilization and cause the Germans to breathe hard. He is a member of the Sigma Phi Fraternity.

College Honors

Marshall Robinson Preston,
Bus. Adm.

York, Pa.

"His cheeks were rosy and fair as his brow."

It was in the quaint little town of Stanley, N. Y., where Marshall Robinson Preston first saw the shimmering lights of this wicked world, and from that day Lehigh had marked him for her own. Tucked away in this little corner of the earth, Marshall has built up his ambitions, until now they are in good hopes of materializing. Though it is true, "Noisy" entered Lehigh in 1912 and expects to leave in 1916—as has been said before, miracles will happen. But what is more, he has waded through the many toils and troubles of the Lehigh Business course, and—ye gods—'Nuf sed. He is a member of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.

"Set 'em up in the other alley."

Bobby Quin, born Feb. 15, 1893, in the thriving young city of Pottsville, moved himself up to Wilkes-Barre with the rest of the coal diggers. His early life was uneventful, except that he entered Lehigh in Geology. He changed to Bus. Adm., but soon gave Baldy up as a bad job. Bobby expects to earn a living making silk stockings. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.

William Dewey Reese, M.E.

Rome, N. Y.

"A little bit goes a long way."

William Dewey Reese was born at Rome; but this does not necessarily make him a "dago," because this time it was Rome, N. Y., way up in the wilds, even beyond Utica. William Dewey was a bright lad, his only drawback being his abnormal length. We know very little of his early career and heard nothing of him until the Spring of 1912, when he graduated from the Rome Free Academy, and incidentally from short trousers. He made up his mind he wanted to go to college, and decided to honor Cornell; but, due to some technicality in their regulations, they unloaded him on Lehigh. Here was Lehigh's chance to show up Cornell. Did she do it? Well, just look at our Willie today and see for yourself! It is customary at Lehigh to study for the professions, so Slim took up Mechanical Engineering, with French as a side line. But every day we find his interest in Mechanical Engineering decreasing and his interest in French increasing. The cause of this reversal is yet to be seen.

Baltimore, Md.

"Say, press the button, will you?"

Bob hails from Maryland. He first appeared in this beautiful land of ours on Jan. 21, 1893. His early days of preparation for Lehigh were spent at B. P. I., where he carried everything before him. After entering Lehigh in the E.E. Course in his Sophomore year, he continued to outwit the professors, and, although he walked in the shadow of Packer Hall, he feared no evil. Bob also has a good time, and he combines the two in an enviable manner. We have no doubt that he will make a success as an engineer. So here's to you, Bob. He is a member of the Theta Xi Fraternity.

Curlis Roberts, C.E.

Haddonfield, N. J.

"Cheer up, you'll soon be dead."

On Jan. 15, 1894, there was born in Philadelphia a blonde-haired youth named Curly Roberts. Hearsay has it that he attended numerous prep schools before one to his liking was found. There seems to be no apparent reason why Haddonfield H. S. should be honored by his attendance, but such was the sad lot of the H. S. He wished himself onto Lehigh in September of 1912, and has been bothering the C.E. Department since that time. The profs. of that department are living in hopes he will pass the exams. in June and get out, in order that peace may once more reign supreme in the department controlled by dauntless Bill McKibben. He is a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity.

Dudley Emerson Roberts, E.M.

Stamford, Conn.

"I seek more worlds to conquer."

In the Metropolis of the Middle West, Omaha, Nebraska, there was born on March 3, 1892, Dudley Emerson Roberts, now commonly called "Dud." He migrated numerous times during his youth, but always headed eastward, and he finally picked Stamford as his place of permanent abode. He was educated in the Stamford High School, and then entered Lehigh. The atmosphere here was not quite to his liking, so Penn State received his attention for a brief interval, and then he came back. Since that time his handsome face has been seen at all Metallurgy lectures and Glee Club rehearsals. Dud is a conscientious student and a hard worker, and will do things after he leaves college. He is a member of the Chi Phi Fraternity.

College Honors

Sophomore Cotillion; Freshman English Prize; Glee Club (4).

Henry P. Rodgers, M.E.

Baltimore, Md.

"When a man's married his trouble begins."

This blonde-haired youth, with his smiling countenance and "bird-like" voice, arrived in town from Baltimore, and immediately began to long for the girl he left behind him. Not being kept sufficiently busy with his work, he decided that it was necessary to do something to kill the time, so he took unto himself a better half and has lived happily since. Henry has made many friends around the Campus with his winning ways and pleasant disposition, and his ability to adapt himself to conditions insure his future success. He is a member of the Theta Xi Fraternity.

Frederick William Ryder, M.E.

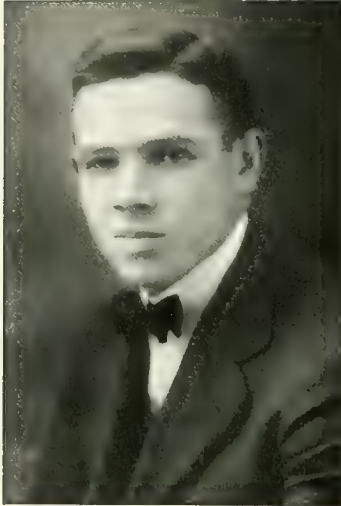

Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

"Come on outside."

Frederick William Ryder (This is a French name.) was born in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 30, 1890. He lived there among the coal diggers and spent some of his time in the mines with a surveying corps. Since he came to Lehigh he delights in telling us of his many "dark" experiences. After preparing at Mercersburg Academy he wished himself on our Alma Mater. He entered in the M.E. Course, and he's stayed right there. Early in his career "Dutch" lost a considerable part of his hair, but that has made him none the less popular with the ladies. Lately, though, he's sort of indifferent to 'em, and we know there's a reason. At this time, however, the "announcements" are not quite ready. He has become quite a student since he has "settled down," and with his personality we may expect to hear from him later. "Dutch" is a member of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

College Honors

L. U. Mercersburg Club; Luzerne County Club; Mechanical Society.

Harold Edmunds Sanford, E.M.

Portland, Oregon

"Girls, let's have a drink."

In the early Fall of 1912 there stepped from off the Diamond a product of the Far West who was soon to start the Campus buzzing by telling Thorny how easy the Math. Department was. Yea, fair reader, it was Harold, alias Mike, and such has been his opinion of Lehigh ever since. He later added to his fame by pulling off the Casey-at-the-bat stuff under perfect setting (it was in the 9th, two on base, and two strikes, when Mike fanned) in the Lafayette series of 1913. Since then his energies have been turned into various lines, so that now, besides gracing the Diamond and Basketball floor, he may be seen gliding around, some vision in his arms, under the soothing strains (?) of the orchestra, or feeding candy to some of Bethlehem's Fairest at a matinee. Mike is a miner, and has visions of a Little Grey Home in the West with the One and Only there to welcome him each eve. Some say that the lucky one is already found, and back there in Portland there is some one anxiously waiting the mails. But, rumors, you know, are rumors. He is a member of the Chi Psi Fraternity.

Stuart Benion Saunders, Bus. Adm.

Westfield, N. J.

"Still waters run deep."

Irving School has turned out some great men, but greatest among them was one who entered Lehigh in the Fall of 1912 in the person of "Stewey" Saunders. Our first recollections of him date back to the time when he was entertaining the Sophomores with prep. school yells. Stewart was always a silent young man, spending most of his time in a dream of a fair creature immured in "Fem. Sem." We regret to say that Stewey will not be with us on that fair day in June when our long struggled for sheepskins are passed out, but this fact does not dampen our enthusiasm or dim our dreams of the brilliant career which is awaiting Herr Saunders. He is a member of the Chi Psi Fraternity.

George Sawtelle, Chem.
Cleveland, Okla.

*"I myself must mix with action, lest
I wither by despair."*

The Captain saw a little fellow chasing up and down the football field. He asked the boy's name, and the answer came, "Sawt." He would not say whether he had ever played any football, but admitted freely that he lived in Oklahoma, where he had settled after wandering through the oil fields of West Virginia, Ohio and Illinois. He claims Marietta Academy as his Prep. School, and New Martinsville, W. Va., as the home of his childhood days. Since entering Lehigh he has made the Chemical Department famous by analyzing end runs and forward passes. He is a member of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

Elmer Frederick Schmoll, C.E.
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

"That's too long, so I won't work it out."

Says Mrs. Michael McCarty to Mrs. Isaac Flannigan, "Now wot dez you know about that bye Schmoll that's at Lehigh University, to be a civil engineer." "Now is that so," says Mrs. Flannigan, "an whin I knew him be used to be working in the mines in Wilkes-Barre with me bye Pat, and sure he was a bright bye. Why he graduated from the Wilkes-Barre High School with Maggie."

This is only part of the conversation heard by Clarence on the train, but shows the popularity of Schmoll with the women. Oh, by the way; there is a girl somewhere who is willing to take this 200 pounder who was born in Wilkes-Barre, March 6, 1894, for better or for worse. Well, here's luck to you, Elmer, and hope that she will get the best and not the worst.

Carl Hugo Schuttler, M.E.

Wheeling, W. Va.

"Efficiency is the summation of all reason."

This young man was born and reared in Wheeling, W. Va. Carl has actually done some real work before coming to college—because, as he admits, the Panama Canal would probably not be in operation by this time if he and his foundry had not come to the rescue and turned out the necessary steel castings for it. "Shut" thought he needed more education, and took it into his head to get a real engineering degree. Accordingly, he brushed up on his "Math." and "English" at Bethlehem Prep during the Spring of 1912, and in the Fall of that year entered Lehigh. During his few years here he has proved himself an efficient, hard-working student, a true and loyal friend, and an active and sincere supporter of Lehigh's sterling ideals. That Carl has not neglected the social side of college life can be learned by referring to the annals of "Bishopthorpe." He is a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

College Honors

Stuart Briscoe Scruggs, C.E.

Dallas, Texas

"He who learns not of Wine, Women and Song, Remains a fool his whole life long."

On the fourteenth of December in the Year of Our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and Ninety-four, the inhabitants of Dallas, Texas, turned out in a body, and, led by the local band (playing "Behold, the Conquering Hero Comes"), had a real P-rade. My curiosity was aroused, and I timidly asked a bystander what had happened? He was both surprised and insulted that I didn't know that Stuart Briscoe Scruggs had come to town. "Stewie" seemed to like the place, so he stayed there (to fulfill the fond hopes of his many admirers) until the townspeople voted at their annual meeting that he should be given "other worlds to conquer." As a result, he was shipped to So. Bethlehem in Sept., 1912, and all who saw him as he waddled into our midst, looking like an Indian with a .48 automatic in each pocket, have followed him closely to see what he was going to do next. He is a member of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

College Honors

Donald Southworth Sexton, M.E.

Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa.

"Why do it today; tomorrow is coming."

Donald, measuring 6 feet 4½ inches, from time immemorial commonly called "Shorty," came to us with a lacrosse stick tacked to his satchel in the Fall of 1912. He is at the present one of the highest mechanical engineers in college, his long legs putting him beyond reach of nearly all of his classmates. Shorty's tremendous length has stood him well in lacrosse, because when he gets the ball and raises his stick over his head only a man with a step ladder can reach it. Shorty's pleasant smile and many pleasant ways have won him a host of friends, who largely look for him to do great things as a mechanical engineer. He is a member of the Delta Phi Fraternity.

College Honors

Frederick William Shay, C.E.

Fall River, Mass.

"Talkin' about Jacky Clarke and the Red Sox—"

Fred was born in Fall River, Mass., Nov. 27, 1894, of the illustrious family whose ancestors participated in the historical Boston Tea-Party, and the equally historical Shay's Rebellion. Fred graduated from Durfee High School in the Spring of 1912, and, after passing M. I. T. entrance exams., decided upon Lehigh as his future Alma Mater, and matriculated in the Fall of 1912. Without apparent effort, Fred has passed the prescribed work in the requisite number of years.

In addition to being a high brow, Fred is a thorough gentleman, and is sure to rank foremost of the eminent C.E.s of the world. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

Robert Weech Sheckells, C.E.

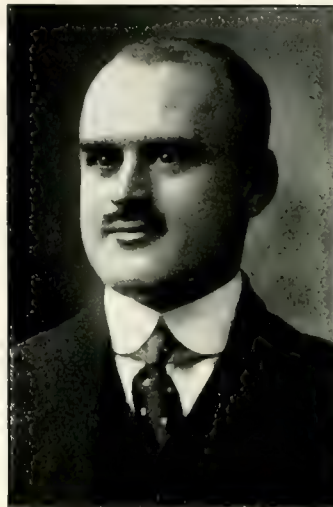

Baltimore, Md.

"By Golly Day."

After securing a thorough preparation at Baltimore Poly, Hawkshaw left the darkies of the South and came to our institution by way of Center Valley and Hellertown. Here he made his reputation as a shark. This "Lil' Feller" is one of those snappy, quick youngsters who are not only able to pull down the high marks in the class, but who also have time enough for all the "side stuff" on tap. Among his college chums he has always been recognized as the "I am with you, boys," type of fellow. He is especially fond of the girls, but my, how he loves those "darkies"!

College Honors

Henry W. Shockley, M.E.

Wilmington, Del.

"For a woman is only a woman, but a good head of hair is a wig." (Apologies to Kipling.)

"Henry" hails from Wilmington High School. His first year at college was not a gleaming star. He had great difficulty with his work, but greater difficulty covering his bald spot with a Freshman cap. The attempt was in vain, and it showed. Now he proudly exhibits his lengthy forehead to all, trotting the campus in all kinds of weather with a face that is filled with a look of scorn when any one mentions "hat." He says they are "for women only." In some manner he waded thru the M.E. course, and is now one of the prides of "Pop" Klein's young heart. His worst offense was to go swimming during an exam., and hence the M.E. Department worried for fear the water of the pool would wash all knowledge of Thermo from his head.

College Honors

George Arthur Smith, M.E.

Maxatawny, Pa.

"Sometimes serious."

Schmitty's sparsely vegetated pate was first seen at Maxatawny, Pa.; as his name and birthplace indicate, George is of royal Pennsylvania Dutch stock—but he can sing. His more tender years were devoted to faithful study at Keystone State Normal. There he acquired an ear for music, a taste for clothes, an eye for the artistic and a heart for the ladies.

Schmitty's tendencies, as exhibited on our campus, have been for the most part musical. Schmitty made his debut as the bassdrum artist on the college band, and then came a promotion to "first base" in the Glee Club. Now, Schmitty proved docile and teachable quite; he learned from the leader the things that were right, and before he stopped he was directing the club himself.

John Abner Snyder, M.E.

Roanoke, Va.

"What's a band without the bass?"

Snyde made his appearance somewhere near "the trail of the lonesome pine" on September 10, 1892. He entered Roanoke High School in 1900, and in 1910 matriculated at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, where he learned to be a military man. But Snyde and military couldn't agree, so the Fall of 1913 saw him installed at Lehigh. Here he took it upon himself to be a bodyguard to "Big John" Bausman, and he is known as Bausman's gang. If Snyde became separated from "Big John" you could either find him wrestling with the big bass horn in the band or setting out to see some fair maid. Snyder has become pretty well acclimated, but all attempts to catch him smoking anything but a "Piedmont" have so far been unsuccessful.

Arthur Theodore Spies, E.E.
Baltimore, Md.

"Good goods come in small packages."

The 7.20 pulled into Bethlehem, and the mob of eager students piled off. Among the last to disembark was one small of stature, blonde of hair, known as "Runt." Little did the crowd realize at the time this little man arrived that Lehigh was receiving from B. P. I. a future Steinmetz. Neither did they appreciate the fact that a new dancer had come among us. This charming little "chorus lady" danced his way into the hearts of all who know him and have seen him. His popularity was so great that at his most recent performance he received a large offering of vegetables and fruit. If "Shorty" gets as many positions as offerings of vegetables and fruit, he will be a great consulting engineer in a few years after leaving college.

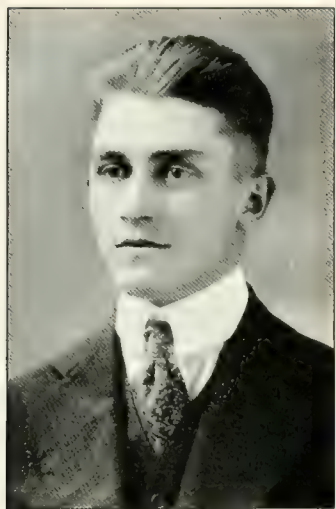

Laury George Stem, Chem.
Northampton, Pa.

"A friend to be proud of."

This extremely quiet young fellow, "Short" was born in '95, somewhere in Western Pennsylvania. After strenuous public school work he entered Moravian Parochial School and preped at Mercersburg, graduating in '12.

For his next installment of higher education he entered Lehigh with a clear mind, upholding the principles he thinks best for his Alma Mater and friends. Although very unassuming, whatever he has done has been accomplished thoroughly, and we who have enjoyed his pleasant nature see nothing but success in store for him. He is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity.

Morris Eugene Stoudt, C.E.

Bethlehem, Pa.

"Ah! Let it go until tomorrow."

Born (it seems strange, but it's true) in Franklin Furnace, N. J., on September 26, 1894, Morris moved to Bethlehem early enough in his youth to absorb the dialect. He mastered this city's offering in educational lines and journeyed over the river in September, 1912, and joined the greatest class which ever entered Lehigh, namely, 1916. He became an apostle of Bill McKibben in order that he might be able to calculate stresses and wind loads on buildings which he and his father plan to erect. Morris has always claimed that, next to Bethlehem, Allentown is the best city in the country. He certainly ought to know, for he has been there often enough. He is a member of the Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity.

Moses Alfred Strausburg, B.A.

Easton, Pa.

"My train was late this morning, Professor."

Born and reared in the village of Easton, made famous by Lafayette College, this wise little man saw sufficient of the aforementioned college not to care to matriculate there, so journeyed up the river in September of 1912 and joined the Class of 1916 at Lehigh. Since that bright day in September "Straussy" has always been trying things, but never yet has he made that coveted "L." We can say with him that it is better to have tried and failed than not to have tried. His persistent efforts and ability to stick to it have won him the admiration of all who know him, in spite of the fact that he is a Democrat and has a bad case of "Wilsonitis."

Norristown, Pa.

"No, thanks, I don't indulge."

The possessor of the above innocent, intelligent countenance was born quite young, at Norristown, and made good despite this early handicap. During his Freshman year at Swarthmore he conceived the bright idea to improve the business course at Lehigh, which accounts for his presence in South Bethlehem during the Sophomore year.

Since coming to Lehigh, "Stritz" has become a regular devil with the women, and is a regular on the last car from Allentown six nights during the week. The other evening from 8 to 8.15 is spent in hard labor preparing the subjects of his arduous course for the following week. Upon graduation he intends to enter his father's bakery business, and there is no doubt but that he will achieve success in the bread and bun business. He is a member of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.

Harry Carlyle Sudgen,

Bethlehem, Pa.

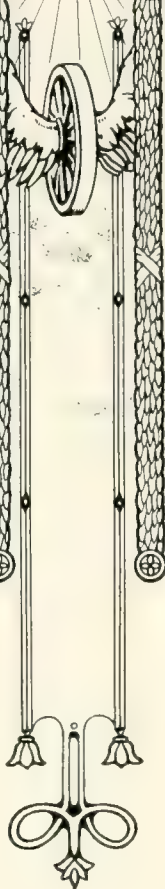

"There's a reason for everything."

"Sug" was born in that great New England city of Boston, but was not content to gain a higher education in that part of the country, so he came down to Bethlehem "Prep," and after finding what a fine place it was around here, he induced the other members of the family to take up their residence at Bethlehem, also.

After matriculating from "Prep" and still retaining his great like for Bethlehem, naturally "Sug" came to Lehigh to take up the course in Math. and Physics.

Otis Jackson Tall, M.E.

Baltimore, Md.

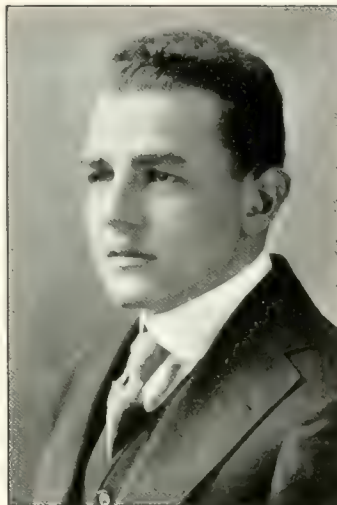

"Good goods come in small packages."

Otis Jackson Tall entered this world at an early age in Baltimore, Md. He prepared for this, our worthy University, at Baltimore Polytechnic Institute and the Friends' School of Baltimore. "Shorty" was with us just two years, in which time he made himself famous as a member of the Brown and White Board, Cast of the Mustard and Cheese Dramatic Society, M.E. Society and the Y.M.C.A. Cabinet.

At the end of two years he took it into his head to make a living, so he left us and went to work for his father. Finding this business unprofitable due to the war, Shorty went to the University of Pennsylvania and joined that University as a member of the Wharton School of Finance. He is a member of the Theta Xi Fraternity.

Aaron Russell Taylor, M.E.

Philadelphia, Pa.

"Fact is a real state of things, while fallacy is an apparently genuine but really illogical statement or argument."

Russ joined us from Philadelphia. As far back as he can remember, everything of a constructive nature appealed to him, so naturally he turned his footsteps toward that fountain of knowledge, Central Manual. His thirst not being assuaged after graduation from that illustrious institution, he came to Lehigh, where he became one of the shining lights of the M.E. Department. He can always look back with pride to the days when he bluffed "Pop" into believing that he was a Thermo. shark. However, we don't wish any one to get the impression that Russ is a grind. Far be it from such. In fact, he spends a great deal of his time reading the history of one of our local educational institutions across the river, and surely this would indicate that he has other diversions besides his books. We wish him all success in life.

"It may be so, but I learned about women from her."

Clifford Holden Thomas, the man from "Tome," otherwise familiarly known as "Tommy, so big and strong." He came to Lehigh with the earnest intention of becoming an E.E., but he didn't know why, and just "mechanically" changed over to Klein's Department. Tommy has always been a man of few words, and altho we never heard him advertise his ambition, still he probably has one. Very early he distinguished himself as a promoter of class fights, but all thru his college career we may say that he has consistently studied and wrestled and had his share of fun. He was not voted the best fusser, and nobody ever heard of him as a lady's man; however, it is an open secret that lately he has had many admirers among the fair sex. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

William Harrison Thornton, E.E.

Old Forge, Pa.

"I hate the women; they love me."

On a snowy November morning in 1892 there was brought forth one William Harrison Thornton, dedicated to Lehigh and doomed for the Electrical Engineering Course. Bill prepared for Lehigh in Scranton, and entered in the Fall of 1912 with the rest of the mental wonders of the Class of 1916. He did excellent work while he was with us, but we regret to say that he was forced to leave college and will not be "among those present" on that glad day in June when degrees are conferred.

Gerald Thorp, Chem.

East Orange, N. J.

"Can I make first hour?"

Way back in the dark ages of 1892, accompanied by angels strumming out chords upon their golden harps, Jerry came tinkling into this world of sorrow, hence his angel face and musical tendencies. But sin soon overtook him, his first words being, "Daddy, lend me a Piedmont." When he arrived at Lehigh, just four short years ago, and decided to become a Chemist, he was still the same dear, sweet boy, but alas! look at him now. Little did he know the low-brow Chemists. For all that he is a good all-around "stude," having stained his fingers in most the college pies; not the least of these achievements being tapping innocent Freshmen on the head with a lacrosse stick to make them understand it is a cruel, bloody game. At the present writing we have great hopes for "Jerry's" matrimonial inclinations. His only sin is residing in New Jersey. He is a member of the Delta Phi Fraternity.

"You take the brown derby."

Mt. Vernon was made famous by George Washington; Kentucky by Lincoln; Trappe, Md., by Frank Baker, and Elkhorn, W. Va., by—well, that's the place that Eddie honored with his birth. The many broken hearts in the immediate neighborhood are a fair example of his popularity among the fair sex.

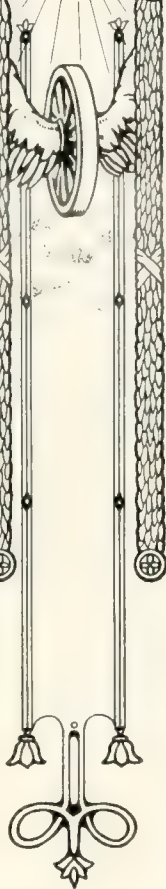

A firm believer in the saying, "Never let your studies interfere with your regular college work," he is nevertheless a good student and is bound to reach the top.

His genial disposition has won him a host of friends, who expect some day to hear of him as the Chief Geologist for the Emaus and Hellertown Consolidated Platinum and Radium Companies.

"Let every man be master of his time till seven at night."

A silence deep and omnipotent lay over Williamsport. A traveling salesman who knew not the significance of the stillness asked why, and received an answer thus: "There has been born this day (December 15, 1893) one David Todd, doomed to education in the Williamsport schools and to the E.E. Course at Lehigh." The cause of this silence gradually grew up and came to us in due time and entered the course whose destinies are controlled by one Bill Esty, B.S., M.A. Dave since that time has smiled continuously. It must be a cinch for him down there among the motors and circuit breakers. He always seems to have time to dance and smile some more. His smile has won him a large number of friends. Robert Clinton Uhl, M.E.

Mount Savage, Md.

"She was her father's pride and joy."

Not so many years ago, way up in the wilds of Maryland, Cy elbowed his way into civilization. Of course, he was bashful and did not talk much during the first couple of months of his life, and so none knew he was around; but at the age of one and a half years his father began coming to him for information, and even now the tendency is "to ask Uhl about it." Cy "preped" at A.C.H.S. No one heard of that place till he told us about it, so we will have to take his word as regards his high school years. His advent in Lehigh is explained by the fact that his brother was a former star here. Cy has been a very successful student, particularly from a scholastic standpoint. In addition to an accumulation of information, he takes with him several prizes, of which he may well be proud. That success may smile upon Cy is our hope.

Walter Volkhardt, M.E.

Chester, Pa.

"Lay on, M'Heart, and damned be he who first comes 'Enough"

In the Fall of 1912 a young man came from Chester (near Philadelphia) to Lehigh with an ambition of becoming an engineer—a mechanical engineer. He thirsted after knowledge, and after four years of hard and conscientious work he has acquired that knowledge of things in general which we believe has fitted him to overcome all obstacles on the road to success. However, he is not held to engineering as a ladder to fame, as he is versatile and competent in other things.

In Chester they call him "Zip," but around college, after many tryouts and eliminations, we have decided upon "Duke" as the most appropriate name. Duke has a fine "line," and is willing to "slip" it to you whenever you have a few spare hours. But putting all kidding aside and looking the "Duke" over with an unbiased eye, we would state that he is a pretty good sort of a "bum."

James Murray Stone Waller, M.E.

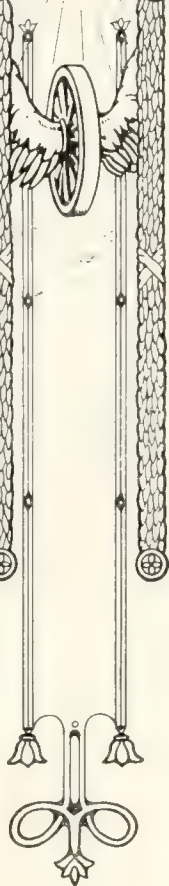

Govanstown, Md.

"Whaddy a mean 5 and 10."

James Murray Stone Waller first saw the light of this world on November 13, 1893, at Govanstown, Md. His parents saw in him an engineer of great promise. In preparation for his life's work he was sent to B.P.L., which he entered in 1910. The work here seemed so easy for him that he decided to go to a college, where there was work to do. (Jim is a bear for work.) He chose Lehigh, and, no doubt, found what he was looking for. He entered Lehigh in February, 1914.

Jim is a fine fellow, good sport and is never seen in bad humor. No one can have an unpleasant time when Jim is in the crowd. We know he will make a success of life.

He is a member of the Theta Xi Fraternity.

Oscar Everett Webb, Jr., M.E.

Sudbrook Park, Md.

"Oh, that's perfectly all right."

Os, the dancing Venus from Baltimore, came to us on winged feet in 1912. He has figured as a sensational toe dancer, having tripped the "light fantastic" in many long-to-be-remembered occasions. He is not a waster of his talent, as those "Mealvites" who throw their pearls before swine. Besides dancing, his other fads are golf, brown suits and beating the bass drum. Oscar tried wrestling also, but we think that was just to get in shape for parlor meets in the oyster town. He graduates this June as an M.E., and we will soon see him wrestling with wrenches and dancing with derricks.

John Morgan Wells, M.E.

Pottstown, Pa.

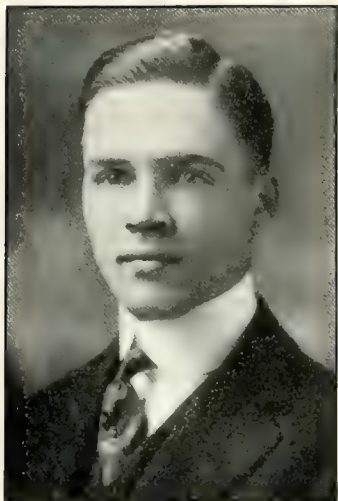

"Go to and stay put."

John Morgan Wells was born December 27, 1893, at Royersford, Pa. Taking for granted the usual ups and downs of early life, we note his entrance to the Hill School in 1908, where he was prepared for his university course, entering Lehigh in the Fall of 1912. His college course has, academically speaking, been pleasantly monotonous—such a small jolt as flunking Integral Calculus just serves as the ghost of what might have happened if he hadn't been John Wells.

Of his college course, humanly speaking, we must say a word. Johnny is a prince of a fellow, a favorite with the fair ones and a good mixer with everybody. It is hard to pick out a student who combines better than he the qualities of a dependable pal with those of efficient leadership. He'll make a success of life without a doubt. We wish him luck. He is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity.

"I don't see why."

Hal, the demon student and Kalculas King, came from Buffalo to learn to be a miner. Iron, steel, gold, it's all the same to him. He, although sporting a Tau Beta Pi key, and handing out the old stuff to the boys, has started eating fish every day so he won't have to bone so hard for the "Astrology" quizzes. Say, won't that noodle of his be a daisy when he gets it loaded up and wrapped in a diploma this June!

Besides a brilliant satellite in the books, Hal is a whale with the little Dutch girls across town. We will miss him in June and the swell stuff he pulls in the Brown and White. We hope Whitie won't dig his hole and drag it in after him when he gets out. Hal is a member of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity.

College Honors

Sophomore Football Team; Brown and White Board; Tau Beta Pi; President, Mining and Geological Society.

Robert William Wieseman, E.E.

Harrisburg, Pa.

"Let's go."

R. W. W. (regular wireless wizard) is a senator from the capital city, namely, Harrisburg. His latent ability began to shine forth in the little grammar school around the corner, and later in the Technical High School, where he was recognized as an electrical authority.

When the famous Wm. Esty, S.B., M.A., gazed upon this embryo electrical engineer, he saw a dazzling light, and knew that he had discovered the "Master Key" for further developments in electrical science. When it comes to electrical subjects he is like an over-excited synchronous motor, and he has a decided lead.

College Honors

Sophomore Physics Prize; Junior E.E., Second Honor; Secretary, E.E. Society; Glee Club.

Earle Cornelius Williams, E.E.

Slatington, Pa.

"God knows I love you."

Pete left the slate mines early to give Allentown Prep. a chance to satisfy his thirst for knowledge. Here his ability as an athlete was found and well spent in two years. Muhlenberg saw that he was meant for a better class, and hence the three months spent there. At this place his desire for seeing life and the world worked on him until he had to go. He wandered to Michigan to further advance his ambitions, but due to misfortune his stay was short. At this western school, he came a member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity. Drifting back East, he signed up at Lehigh for the remainder of his college days.

Joseph Wyler, B.S. in Chemistry

Scranton, Pa.

"In the interest of Science."

Scranton wished this mental gymnast on to us. He was born in Scranton on April 24, 1893. His preparation for Lehigh was made in the Scranton public schools, and he entered with the Class of 1916 in September, 1912. Joe seems to have but one ambition in life, and that is to learn all the chemistry that exists. If he keeps on at the present rate, he will have mastered a large portion of it before he leaves college. But study is not the only thing Joe does. He is a marvelous soccer player. His speed and agility make him a valuable asset to the team, and if at any time the demand for chemists grows slack, Joe can always get a place on the Bethlehem Championship Soccer Team.

College Honors

Tau Beta Pi; Junior Oratorical Contest; Junior Chemistry Prize; Sophomore English Prize; Soccer Squad; Chemical Society; Phi Beta Kappa.

Hugh Wylie, M.E.

New Castle, Del.

"May my soul rest easy three weeks before the day comes I'm dead."

"Little Doc" was born in the then thriving city of New Castle, Del., on October 8, 1895. He was expected to remain long in this country, but at the age of three months embarked on a trip to the native home of his parents in Ireland. Here he contracted the name of Pat, which stayed by him until he came to college. Those of us that can remember the days in September, 1912, have fond memories of a little, innocent-looking, white-haired, four-eyed boy, who appeared about the age of 15 until you started talking to him, and then you found he had a wonderful flow of knowledge. Doc has had a varied experience with the ladies, and we hope that he will not be as disappointed in love in the future as in the past. Doc is studying Mechanical Engineering, and we certainly hope he will be as successful in making business friends as college friends.

College Honors

Class Relay, '12; Varsity Relay, '13; Varsity Track Squad, '13; Sword and Crescent.

Donald Thomas Wynne, B.A.

New Haven, Conn.

"Prof. Stewart notwithstanding, New England has sent some good men to Lough."

He was not an aspiring office-seeker, but was mentioned not infrequently in class elections, with no success, until he was crowned with the honor of Class Presidency. He has always had the good of the Honor System at heart and has sought for reform, which has not been forthcoming. He has been in most everything in college affairs, and the wonder is that he has never flunked a subject. He takes pride in the fact that he is not too popular, for he says that no great reformer can be popular with every one. He is a member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity.

College Honors

President, Senior Class; Chairman, L. U. Athletic Committee; President, Y. M. C. A.; President, Cyanide Club; Arcadia; Mustard and Cheese, 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; First Prize Junior Oratorical Contest; Varsity Baseball, 3; Class Baseball, 1, 2; Class Football, 2; Freshman French Prize; University Dance Committee; Editor-in-Chief of the "Frown and Bite."

Discussion of Results

Whew! just like a "Physics Lab." report—after doing the strong-arm work, it isn't complete without a discussion of results as a conclusion. In this discussion we refuse, in spite of Wily's training, to hold ourselves accountable for probable errors. One thing is certain—if there are any mistakes, you can be sure that it was wrong on the ballots before the committee got hold of them.

If you count the foregoing pictures you will find that there are 118 men who are proud to be called members of the class of "1916." Of this number 18 are either "converts" from other classes or other colleges, or else "wanderlusters" who left us during our first three years. This means that only about 100 of the original number who entered Lehigh in 1912 as Freshmen are still with us as Seniors.

According to the table of statistics Johnson and Sexton are the "tallest," while there are five in the "shortest" class, and there is just one foot difference between the long and the short. It seems as tho Spies should receive the distinction of "runt" for he weighs only 115 pounds. Some of us, perhaps, were too modest to tell the truth about ourselves, because we're damn sure that Hicks lied about his age. On the other hand, Schuttler frankly admits that a man is never too old to learn. Grumbach and Keady are the class jumbos—say, did you ever watch Grumbach eat? Pennsylvania was the popular state for most of the class to claim as birth-place, but some of us know of a better "Gawd's Country" than Pa. As for "prep" schools, Bethlehem "Prep" seems to be in the lead, with Baltimore "Poly" giving it a close chase.

The "class-ballot" was compiled from the ninety-nine ballots that were handed back to the committee in time to be counted. Many a fellow voted for himself or for his chum, so the committee decided to omit all straggling "1" and "2" counts. As a result of leaving these out there are twenty-one men who receive neither honorable nor dishonorable mention—and the peculiar thing about it is that these men are all well known members of the class, so it just happens that there is nothing listed in which they shine.

On the "faculty-ballot," everybody expected "Windy" to be elected the "windiest," "Sleepy Jack" the "laziest," and "Baldy" the "most sarcastic." Otherwise the ballot is more or less different than of other years, and therefore it is interesting enough to examine for yourself.

Opinions

After wading thru the mass of opinions so glibly ventured by the hidden wits of the class, we submit the following assortment and prescribe that they be taken with a pinch of salt. Our power of censorship has been sorely taxed and if we have been too strict may it be attributed to modesty. The committee has decided to submit several suppressed copies to "Snappy Stories" (and in this way bolster up its finances). Some sound like Monday at the "Grand" while others, too deep for our meagre intellects were passed up without a murmur. One monosyllabic contribution would make its author a good faculty secretary, his opinions running like this: rotten, farce, beautiful, farcial, passable, inane, putride, asinine, and so on ad infinitum—but variety (no reflections on the show) is the spice of life and our guiding thought has ever been, "choose, men of Carthage, whichever ye will!" Bring him on!

Guided by visions of an all too elusive diploma we refrain from commenting upon our course professors, altho the Electricals, unwilling to commit themselves, proudly claim them to be "as good as those of any other course." Some more choice contributions are, "Rather antediluvian," and "So-so," while the business men claim that "anything the little Napoleon tolerates must be there."

Speaking about the Y. M. C. A., one student asks "What's that?" Hill says "I'm in it and can't comment," and Smith thinks it's a fine place to see Fem. Sem. However, Lambert believes it never did anyone any harm and besides it gives Frey something to do, so why quibble?

The general opinion of the chapel is that it looks good from the outside. Johnson says he liked it the time he went and Schmoll thinks it is unnecessary. Cannon suggests compelling the Faculty to attend. We can't figure out whether this would improve the chapel or the Faculty—still, there is good in everything.

The Mustard and Cheese, according to Hess, has "too much mustard" and Andrews blames it on "too much cheese." We agree with Carlson that it could be improved. Lancaster calls it a good, green grocery investment and he ought to know. We extend to them all our sympathies when even Kealy sighs, "Never again!"

Brewster claims that the "Shades of Shylock," who owns the Supply Bureau, is the only man who can get money from him without putting him into the twilight zone. Score one for Pelay! Koch says, "say anything about him you care to. I'll take the responsibility!" Charity begins at home, Pete!

Clement "hesitates" to give his opinion of the college dances and Hill, speaking from experience, says, "Young man, go stag!" Wylie calls them the best course at Lehigh and Horine thinks to "cut out the cut in" would improve them. Sanford stutters something about "too many professional parasites." Whaddya mean, Mike?

Hill is wondering, "Did we ever have a band?" Koch thinks it would sound fine under water; He's wants more music and less band and Wynne implores us to speak of pleasant things. We agree with Brewster, "If you can't boost, don't knock!"

"Abandon hope all ye who enter here," seems to fit the Commons just about right, according to Horine and Baush would take his worst enemy there. Wynne thinks "Commons" and "Typhoid Mary" are synonymous and Hartmann believes "Typhoid a discretion" would add greatly to the Menu. We have got to hand it to Forstall when he claims he ate there two years and is still living. Long live the King!

The movies are "reely picturesque" according to Wills, and Clare would be happy if they were open on Sunday. Horine calls them the So. Bethlehem Lehigh Club and Hartman believes that he prefers them to Machine Design. "I am just crazy about Mary Pickford," Wynne confided to the committee. Oh, Don, how can you?

We hold the following truths to be self-evident: that the last car leaves too early, is too crowded and should be provided with garboons. Dainty little Mudge complains so demurely that the last car "smells," but as Snyder says, "a friend in need is a friend indeed," so take what the gods provide. Wynne says that you would think they were liquidating the whole system and Clare says it is so lonesome. Eddy must have woke up at the end of the line.

Like all good things, "die deutsche Malchen" have come in for a share of our satire and muck raking in general. Fair wants us to "ask a fellow who knows," so Sanford suggests "rough but nifty." Mack thinks they look good from a distance and Henderson murmurs something about dialect and feet and ends up with, "Good night!"

Next To Yourself Who Would You Rather Be? Wynne informs us that you can emulate great men but you wouldn't change places. Even at that Steve Brodie, The Sultan of Turkey, Kaiser Wilhelm, and even A. Biller are not sure of their jobs if these aspiring students would have their way. Boss over Thorny seems to be a popular choice, the reason being self-evident. Lambert would like to be "Shorty Ullman, Reese thinks Pop Klein would be a fine choice and Williams wants to be Blossom because father takes care of him. Powers thinks it would be such a novel experience to be Mudge for a while and Keiser can imagine anything finer than stepping into old St. Peter's shoes. Quite a few are perfectly satisfied with themselves, but of course we expected that.

When we mention the Math. and Physics departments everybody seems to yield up the ghost. The rest believe it's impossible to improve them but Hess suggests that removing E and F from the alphabet would help. We were pleased to see good old Benny receive a glad hand.

Worst Thing You Have Ever Done! It wasn't quite fair to ask this but we had to know even if Clark does say "Have a heart!" Kealy worked once for a week and Leslie talked back to Baldy. Johnston thinks it was terrible to have to lead a Y. M. C. A. meeting and Baush was in the same predicament when he took her to a Wrestling meet. Mardaga believes it was the height of folly to "leave out the steps" in reciting to Blossom and we agree with him, while Chenoweth thinks he took an awful chance when he loaned Ostrum $5. Webb apologized to Ashbaugh, Stritzinger looked for the Book of Kings in the Library, and Thorp tried to part his hair in the middle. That was so impulsive, Gerald! Brewster claims his life to be an open book but the incident we are hunting for must be on a missing page. Waller has our sympathy when he didn't hear Cranston invite him to have a drink. Hartmann claims he hasn't done it yet, and we see a bright future for Bill.

Ambitions! We fain would quote from noble Brutus on this "stuff which dreams are made of" but the following is good evidence that modesty is no (?) longer a lost art. Most of us are satisfied with just being successful, and Horine will be happy if he graduates. Mudge looks forward to "a wife and a home" and finds a rival in Reese who also wants to cop the Class Cup. Johnston's one ambition is "Sad as it may seem, $1,000,000," Williams' to have a large family, and Doc Wylie's to be a high diver. Sanford thinks being President of Mexico would be a fine job and Sexton wants to attain greater heights (intellectual, we hope). "$5 a week" spells Johnston's ambition, and Baush on the other extreme wants to own the Bethlehem Steel Co. Mardaga will be happy when he can throw the bull like Leslie and get away with it, and Clark wants to lick one guy in the Physics Department. Snyder will rest in peace when he gets Bausman under the table and Grumbach, when he gets a D from Fogg. We are glad to find a few patriotic Americans in the class who still hope, like Mother, that they will be President of the United States. Why not? We know several who landed there without passing Calculus.

How Did You Kiss the First Girl? We asked this question for the education of some of the committee and accordingly withhold the details. Sawtelle informs us that Adam kissed the first girl and Sexton thinking we doubted him, hurried to explain that he wasn't so tall then.

It was a unanimous opinion as to the best thing the class has accomplished but we hand Wylie the brown derby for the best statement of it: 7-0! 10-0! 17-7! Nuf ced.

If You Were Rich Enough? We can expect great things for the University if we can believe all that we hear in answer to the above question. Liberal pensions for the faculty, free tuition, and special cars to Allentown are the least of what's coming. Think of it—when Snyder puts an elevator in Packer Hall, when Tall buys Knebelman a one-way ticket to Vienna and when Sawtelle buys Germany and drowns it. Horine, in a fit of generosity, would buy the Geology department a motor truck and the committee will stock it with brooms and shovels if the Business department dare use it once a week. The Civils are going to buy McKibben a Ford and the Mets. think a garboon would look fine in Roush's lecture room. Hess is going to settle the argument started by Noah and put up the new bridge at his own expense, and when Clare contributes a new station and Mardaga buys all the Thermo. books and burns them, Chenoweth will move the college to Allentown. Yea botz!

What Most Important Question Omitted? We really tried so hard to ask all the rude things we could think of but after all we are only human and with humble apologies add these few jaw breakers. The committee hate to admit their ignorance but are so anxious to know the answers that a tin-type photo of Ashbaugh will be given away free for the best contributions.

Stoudt wants to know who is considered the college widow and Sexton asks, "How long is a rope?" Now we've got you, Baldy, think it over. The Civils are wondering "Does a beard improve Windy's looks?" and this one has the Mechanicals stopped—"Why Blossom will go, start a faculty row, at the burlesque show, we'd like to know?" "Do you use Pear Soap?" inquires Lambert, and Sanford wants to find out what you would do with Clarence if you owned him? Here are a few deep ones: "How to succeed though educated?", "What right has Leslie to the class cup?", "Why is Drown Hall a fine place for 'Arcadia' meetings?", "What would happen if Thorny died?" Several asked "What's the matter with the Class Book Committee," but out of modesty we've ruled that one out. Thinking it might help a little with the applause we left this one for last—"Where did Lafayette get the horse shoe?"

Matteson—"I'm tired of Policemen."

Wop Martin—"Do you take Met. Lab.?"

J. B. Hill—"No! I sleep at home."

Our problem—Capital versus Labor, i. e. "Don" Markle versus "Wop" Martin.

Our Own John L. "Just because you're a Miner is no reason why you should walk on the grass and chew tobacco."

Roush "Let's see: Taking into consideration this proposition umm I don't believe I've given that matter much attention lately."

Different characteristics make people wonder what will become of their associates. Some wonder how long others will go before being sent to jail, others wonder how soon the hospital for the insane will reap its reward, but what the senior miners are wondering about now is how soon some enterprising westerner is going to dig a mine that will accommodate Guy Johnson so he won't have to crawl on hands and knees and then knock down the roof timbers with his head.

WHERE THE FUMES ARE THICKEST.

Henry, Dean of the Chemical Supply Room, has petitioned "Doe" Ullmann to have a shower bath spraying sulphuric acid placed at the disposal of Baker and Anderson. Water doesn't seem to be strong enough for this pair to bathe in.

"Pete" Koch has decided to bestow himself on some one who will "love, honor and obey" on June 4, 1919. Why that date, no one knows ask Wyllmer for details.

Who said Jerry Thorp liked water? He hates the stuff. He sprained his shoulder trying to remove that fluid from his back the other day. He must have been rubbing some.

These words may be heard most any Summer morning about 4 A. M.: "Say, bird, are you goin' a ride on this car? If you are, get on, and have your fare ready. The Punxatawney limited won't wait for symes like you." "Just see that rusty-haired conductor man."

Horine (after finishing Assaying in Summer School)—"Some wild night, I'm goin' a spend a cold dollar." Some gay bird, I should remark. 9.00 P. M. (same night)—"Well, the pictures were fair. Guess I'll go home and read Schnabel."

"Joe" Wyler, the mental wizard from Scranton seems to take numerous trips to Catasauqua. Also, there frequently arrives at Joe's home large boxes of most delicious candy. Is it possible that there is any connection between the trolley trips and the candy? Call out the Pinkertons, the mystery must be solved.

Conclusion

In compiling the Class Book of 1916 the Committee has had but one ambition—to offer a summary that will in future years recall to each member of the Class his days at Lehigh as a member of 1916. To this intent we have tried in the foregoing pages to record the character of every member of the Class. Undoubtedly we have attempted the impossible, so if perchance some of your good traits have been overlooked, or on the contrary, some small fault magnified, we ask your forbearance.

JUNIOR CLASS

HERE is nothing so long in the prospect, and nothing so short in the retrospect as college years, the shortest, gladdest years of life. It seems only yesterday that we were "showing the green, carrying matches and wearing the sombre black of the "Frosh." And now we are walking on the grass and nearing the time when we can sit on the walls and mayhap wear the cap and gown.

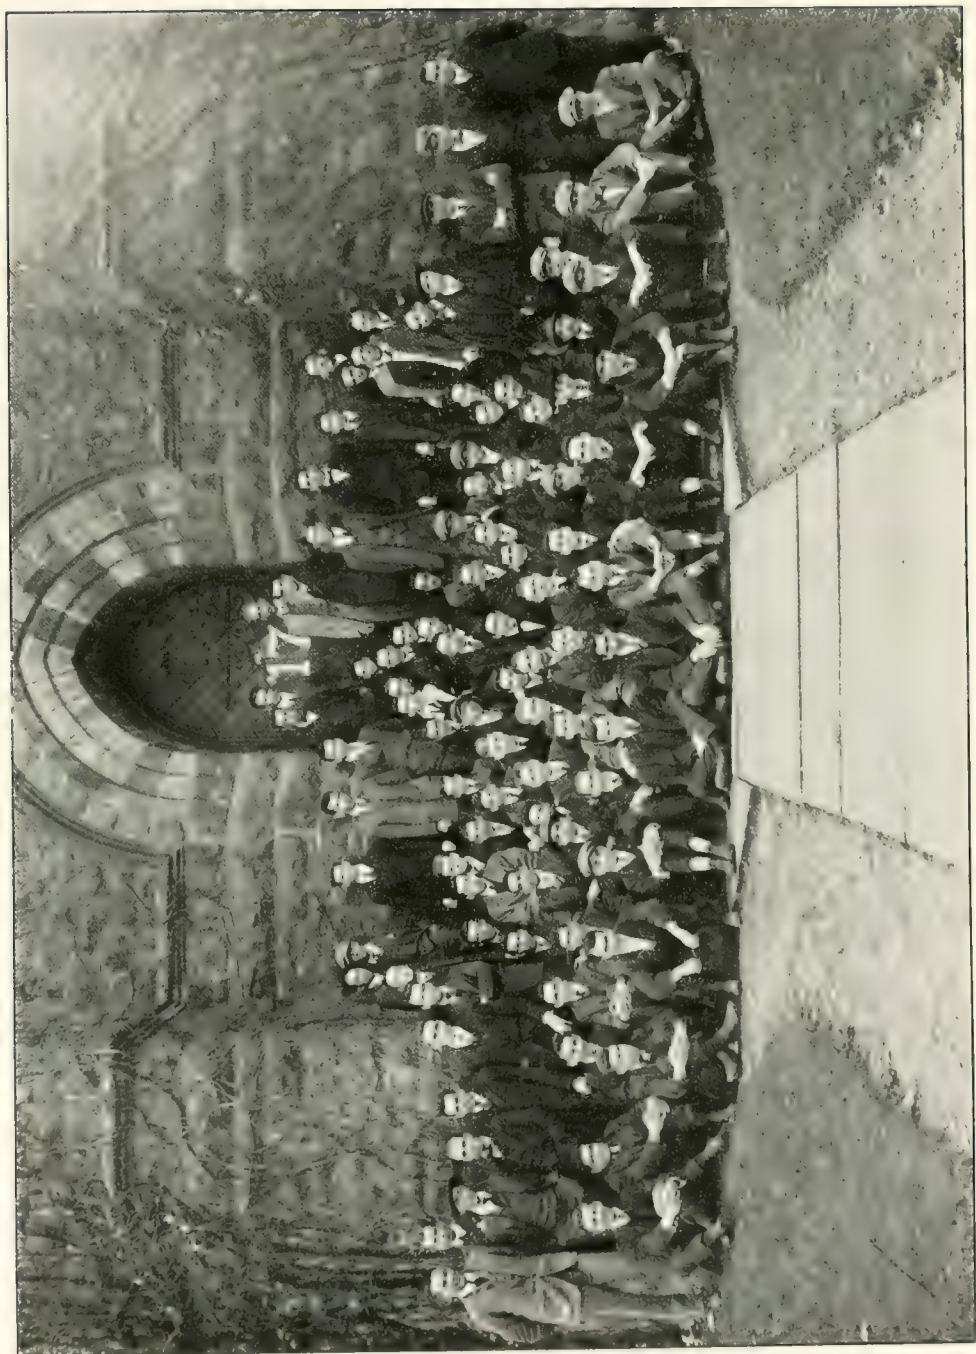

Victors in the tie-ups and interclass meet as Freshmen and in the Founder's Day sports as Sophomores, we have held our own in college affairs as Juniors, preparing to lead the college as Seniors.

Inevitably, in the course of events and various exam weeks and faculty teas, our ranks have thinned, but the fit have survived. We hope they will continue to survive. The captain of the football team, the captain of the baseball team, and of the soccer team, members of every team and college organizations are numbered on the rolls of 1917. And scholars there are too and social stars and every kind of pleasant college fellow.

As time goes on our memories of college years grow more. Our helplessness as new arrivals, dorm parties, class rushes, poster fights, defeats of Lafayette in football, baseball, track, basketball, wrestling and soccer, Calculus Cremation, house parties, the woes of mid-years and finals, the pleasurable of returning to college in the fall, re-examinations, summer schools and petitions, all these and more have been our share, perhaps will be our share once more before we look our last on "Old South Mountain, reared against the sky."

As to the past we look on it with pleasure tinged with slight regret for those things that might have been done better. We live in the present. In the future we look forward to the honors and tribulations of the Seniors. And through it all we were, we are, and shall be loyal to and very proud of this our class, the Class of Seventeen.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

THE Class of 1918 first came into existence early in the fall of the year of 1914. We were rounded up by upper classmen at about midnight to our rendezvous on Packer Avenue, into a large disorganized mob. Here with quaking knees and throbbing hearts we listened to the fiery eloquence of some of the upper classmen who charged us as Men of Lehigh, etc., to go forth to battle with the Sophs, and do those things which would bring honor and glory to our Class. Spurred on by the fire and vigor of these orators, we sallied forth to the lists and acquitted ourselves like men. We won the first battle. In the banner rush and the Founder's Day Sports we were not so fortunate, but on Founder's Eve the true mettle of 1918 was shown when we carried off the victory.

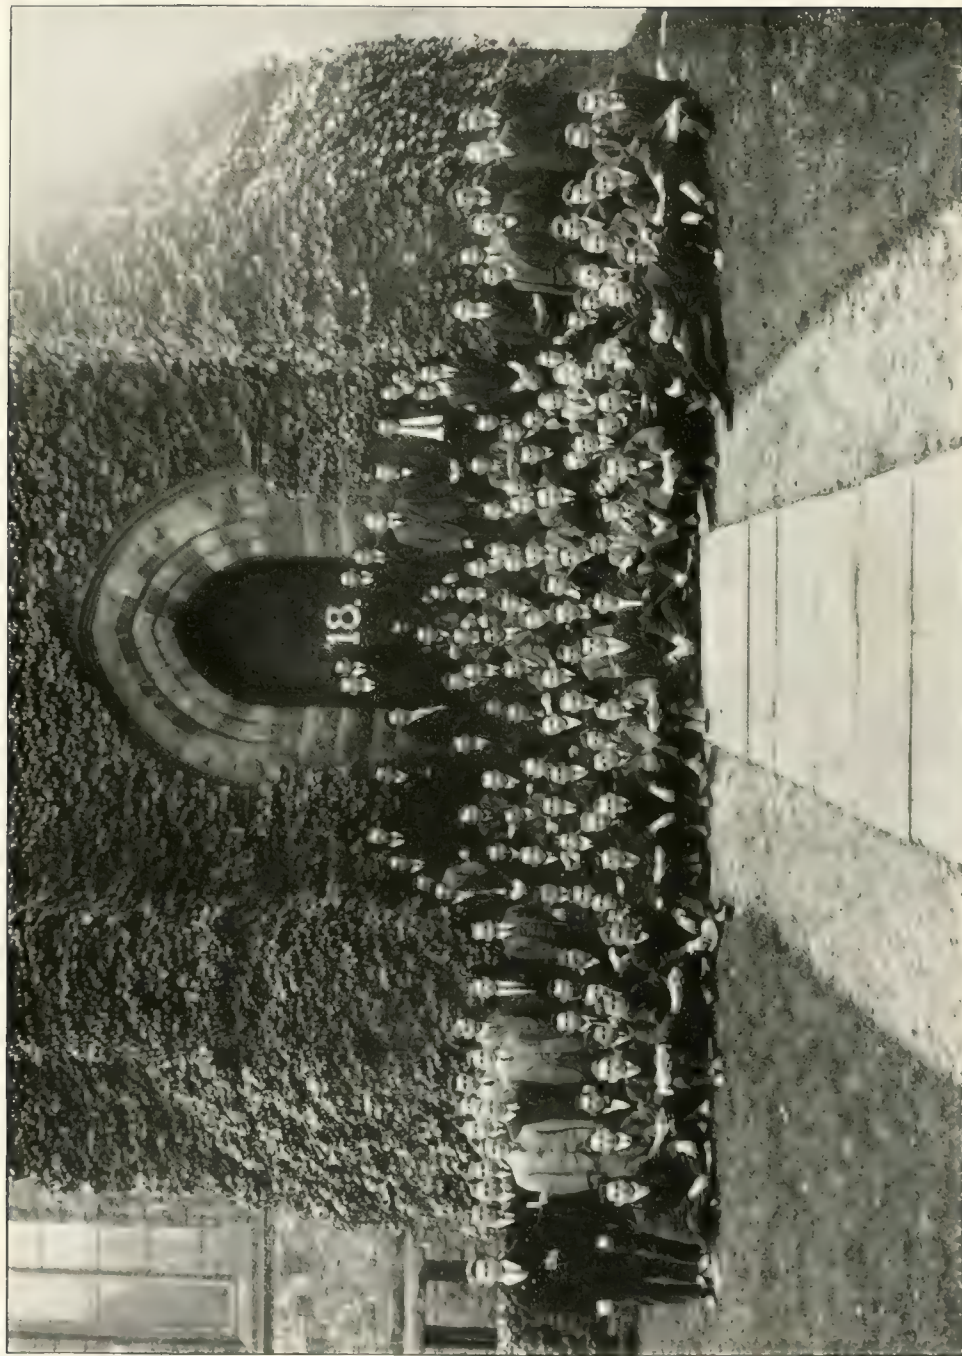

Of course there were numerous indignities to which we were submitted, but these we stood with forbearance, knowing that some day we would have our inning. That long looked for day has arrived, and now that we are Sophomores we feel that we have the upper hand. Immediately upon returning to college this fall we took that band of youngsters who call themselves 1919 in charge and have tried to make something out of them. After beating them into submission on two well remembered occasions we seem to be making headway and hope to make them our worthy successors.

The Class has held its own as freshmen and sophomores both in the classroom and in college activities. We are well represented in the literary field as well as in athletics.

As freshmen we took what was coming to us as FRESHMEN and gave what was expected of us as FRESHMEN. As sophomores we do the same. We do not believe we are world beaters, but we do believe that we have finished these first two quarters of our course in good style. When Father Time snaps the stop watch as we breast the tape at the mile stone of graduation we feel sure that the Class of 1918 will be among the leaders.

FRESHMAN

THE history of the class of 1919 was inaugurated on a humid night in September, 1915, when we met in Drown Hall, some two hundred and fifty strong and elected a temporary president. We then split up, and led by the Juniors, got ready to do battle in the Opening Night Poster fight. How eager we were to lay our hands on the Sophomores, as we set out soon after midnight, with our posters, and buckets of paste! The Sophomores were aware that we outnumbered them and were as scarce as a horse and buggy on Fifth Ave. on a spring Sunday. About five thirty in the morning, however, the two classes met, and the Freshmen went "to it." After ten minutes' battle, not a Sophomore was untied. We had won a victory, and we marched wearily home and tried to get a little rest before that afternoon.

In the afternoon we sauntered forth, proudly wearing our newly obtained Freshman caps, and on our walk to the chapel, we saw nothing but Freshman posters,—on all sides, and at all heights. When the opening exercises of the term were over, we heard a noise outside, which resembled greatly that of a cage of wild animals. When we got out of the door, we were rudely started on our way to the athletic field, where the Banner rush was to take place.

Here we lined up in rows of fours, and marched slowly at the oncoming Sophomores with our banner tightly clutched in our hands. We rushed our rivals all over the field, but due to lack of experience, lost.

From then until Founder's Day we were watched over very carefully by the Sophomores, the latter taking especial pains that we came out of the Chemistry lectures in safety. The night before Founder's Day came, and with it the second poster fight of the year. Our number of warriors sadly dwindled as the night advanced, and the Sophomores came out victoriously. However, their glory was short-lived,—over night in fact, for the next day we conquered them in two of the three time-honored contests, losing the relay race. We fondly bade good-bye to the black ties, and socks, and went on our way.

The Class of 1919 has weathered the mid-year gale in good shape, and is going along through the spring very well. In conclusion, the class of 1919 has room for lots of improvement. However, the spirit of the college "on the breast of old South Mountain," has been firmly instilled into us, and the historian hopes that the good record of 1919 may grow better as years roll by, and one of which Lehigh will be justly proud.

ARCADIA

The transition from school to College or University while but a step in the progress of the educational advancement of the student is one well worthy of consideration.

No longer does the former school-boy propaganda hold sway.

It is generally conceded that the student has attained that age when he can weigh evidence for his own problems and judge as to the honest system with which they must be carried out.

For this reason the Honor System was adopted at Lehigh University in May, 1904, and it provided that the Arcadia should be the virtual head and governing body of a Committee composed of all the students of the University for the faithful fulfillment of the System.

It is the business of the Arcadia to conduct an Honor Court which shall give impartial jury trial to all students who may be reported for infringement of the Honor System.

At the same time the Arcadia is empowered to promote all advisable and necessary methods and procedures to uphold the good name of Lehigh University and to benefit the student-body at large. If necessary it may, in order to uphold this principle, cause the exclusion of men who bring discredit to the University.

The Arcadia is composed of fourteen men, twelve elected each Fall by the student-body at large from a group of twenty-six men made eligible by virtue of their College offices.

Choice is made from the following:

Managers and Captains of Football, Baseball, Lacrosse, Track, Wrestling and Basketball Teams; Presidents of Senior, Junior and Sophomore Classes; Editors-in-Chief and Business Managers of the Brown and White, Burr and Epitome; Presidents of the Y. M. C. A. and Mustard and Cheese Association; Athletic Representative-at-Large and Head Cheer Leader.

Two members are elected each year from the Junior Class to serve for two years.

The Senior President is automatically elected as provided for in 1915.

The Arcadia, 1915-1916.

The Young Mens Christian Association

There is an organization on Old South Mountain that stands for those things which are best in the life at the University. In every way it strives to live up to its high ideals. The purpose of the association is to aid students in the development of strong Christian characters and to show them that men with such characters are not always of the "goody-goody" type.

The new man entering college finds in this institution a true friend. To him information and aid are offered. The annual Y. M. C. A. reception is a big event in the college year. Freshmen are welcomed by the faculty and student body, and are urged to start their college course by forming proper associations.

Every Sunday evening after supper a meeting is held in Drown Hall lasting for half an hour. Prominent speakers are invited to address the meetings and these men with their broad experience in life have made the meetings popular and a decided power for good. Students from other colleges and universities are frequently the speakers.

The past year has witnessed the inauguration of the Discussion Meetings by the Bible Study Committee. These meetings held in the various fraternities and dormitory sections are led by professors, local ministers and business men. Problems of vital interest to the college man are discussed. The free exchange of views upon all questions have gone a long way toward bridging the gap between student and professor.

Big Brothers look after the children whose very environment makes them potential criminals. As aides to these youthful violaters of the law the Big Brother comes into close contact with their home life bringing into it a message of cheer and better living. There is no work connected with the association which comes closer to the question which larger cities must face when dealing with the more thickly populated and less healthy districts. As camp leaders, the students interested in this work spend the summer months at Camp Tohickson on the Delaware.

With the co-operation of the Bethlehem Steel Company the association has conducted night school classes and on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons classes for the men who work on the night shifts. These classes combined with the naturalization class give to the student as the instructor a clearer conception of the foreign problem which Uncle Sam has been compelled to face. The men who have sought new homes in America find in the Y. M. C. A. man a true friend.

At Eagles Mere and Northfield the association is usually represented. At the Eagles Mere Conference Lehigh always has a strong delegation.

This year the Association is completing a quarter of a century of usefulness in the University and in the community of the Bethlehems. The last two years under Secretary Frey the Y. M. C. A. has seen more work of real lasting value than during any other period since it was founded at Lehigh.

Twenty Years Ago

The class of '96, which expects on Alumni Day this June to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of its graduation knew Lehigh as students in the years 1892 to 1896. At the beginning of that period the Physical, Mechanical, Mining and Testing Laboratories, Williams Hall, Commons, Drown Hall and the dormitories were not. Of the faculty enrolled in the '94 Epitome only "Pop" Klein remains in service. Of the instructors, likewise, only one remains at Lehigh, Prof. Richards, tho Prof. Lambert was absent in that year taking on inspiration in Germany. The four years saw four presidents: Dr. Robert A. Lambertson, who died Sept. 1, 1893; Acting President

The late Henry Coppée, LL. D., First President Lehigh University.

Henry Coppée, who died March 1, 1895; Acting President William H. Chandler, and Dr. Thomas M. Drown who was elected in 1895 and began his presidency in September of that year. Preceding these four years, Lehigh had known years of plenty. Tuition had been free. Ours was the last class in which most of the members enjoyed this privilege. So we were a part of the lean years and we saw the evil days coming nigh when thru our weakness Lafayette would have advantage. Honor is due the trustees, faculty and alumni who devotedly saw Lehigh thru those years of stress, which we hope are now gone for good.

Class rivalry was an important element in early Lehigh history. Classes of the late eighties and early nineties recall the fierce class rushes and fights on the athletic field and in various parts of the Bethlehems. The fatal accident to a member of the class of 1895 brought an end to the annual cane-rush on the athletic field. The first cane-sprees, resulting in favor of 1895, was held on Columbus Day, 1892. A tug-of-war was the third event which now has been replaced by a relay race. The football heroes of our day were "Dibbie" McClung, "Tommy" Roderick, "Romeo" Houston, "Okie," "Jim" Keys, and "Curt" Trafton. The musical clubs seem to have been of more importance in those years. The literary clubs also had more life. Lehigh was prominent in the Pennsylvania Inter-Collegiate Oratorical Union and held inter collegiate debates with Lafayette.

In our time there were fifteen fraternities and in practically all the men lived together. In 1895 an Honor System was organized in the student body. After one year of trial the members of '96 voted 55 in favor of the system, 29 against and 8 doubtful. The development during succeeding years of a sense of responsibility on the part of the student body for its own management has been an encouraging feature of life at Lehigh. It is certain that in those days there was much time wasted and many men made poor use of their opportunities. It is a question, however, whether so many outside affairs, social and athletic, had admittedly so important a part in college life as they now hold. There was probably more drinking then and less smoking. The statistics of '96 show that 20 used a pipe, 18 smoked cigarettes, 12 used cigars, 9 chewed tobacco. Fifty-nine in all used tobacco while 37 did not; twenty-nine were in favor of prohibition while fifty-six were opposed, nine favored woman suffrage while seventy-six were opposed.

Dr. Severin Ringer, Professor of Modern Languages and History—1880-1905.

What a change democratically has come over the faculty since those days! The men of that day moved serene and dignified with a nod of recognition but as tho far removed. Poor old "Dutchy" Ringer and his shawl! How fine it would be to hear him discourse on European History in these days. It is true that he told K— "Yes, Mr. K—, you have passed your German, but I cannot tell you so, until you pay me ze fife dollars." But without a hint of disparagement toward the men of to-day, let me say that he was one of a group of high mannered and high-minded gentlemen under whom it was our good fortune to receive instruction.

Compulsory chapel with an instructor going about taking absences was ended during our day. Who of us has forgotten "Jim," then in his prime, and his little den in Packer Hall? "Jerry, have you put in your pink slip?" he would remind on Monday morning. And Jerry taking the slip would look wise and say: "Let's see, where did I attend church yesterday?" One Sunday in June a member of a graduating class was found up front in a Bethlehem church by a member of the faculty. "Well, S - -, how do I see you here?" was his query. "Well, you see, professor, I have been attending this church for four years and I have come to see what it is like." The Calculus Cremation was made a much better affair in our time. The Brown and White was begun late in 1893. Lacrosse and base-ball flourished and we had strong teams. Basket-ball was not. Tennis had a few devotees. Boating and skating were favorite enjoyments in their seasons. Class and mass meetings were held in Christmas Hall and the alumni met annually in Saucon Hall. The athletic field was a small affair and the annual deficit was a night mare to the alumni. It is Prof. Thornburg who came in our senior year to whom credit is chiefly due for the improved material and financial condition of later years. The leaden footed "Burkie" and the silent Sterner of the library, with "Walter" of the Gym. and old man Buck of the grounds in general are features of the old memories. Ninety-six had the first class book. She has published a Three-Year Book and a Ten-Year Book. Every June sees a '96 reunion. We look forward this June to a hearty partaking with the other alumni, faculty and students in the fiftieth anniversary of our dear Alma Mater.

Permission was granted by the Faculty of Lehigh University at its November meeting (1909) to the Chinese students for the organization of a Club to be known as "The Chinese Students' Club of Lehigh University." The objects of the Club are: "To promote closer friendship among the Chinese students of Lehigh University and schools in the vicinity; to interchange knowledge and render mutual assistance to one another, and to labor for the welfare of China as well as for our Alma Mater."

STUDENT LIFE

Book V.

Chapel

The Year 1915-1916

The switch was thrown out at three-thirty on the afternoon of September fifteenth when two hundred and sixty-six new men started on their way to a higher education. Sophomores and Freshmen felt the natural objections to one another's presence and would do naught but fight. But class scraps soon blazed the trail to a firmer union, a better understanding between the victor and the vanquished. Packer Hall, which for some years had withstood the assaults of well planned drives, was this year closed to the invaders' forces. No blood was shed in that memorable stairway whose fortifications could withstand the most severe stress of an offensive nature. Packer Hall as a battle ground has had a glorious past but its future is a closed book.

No notice struck greater sorrow in the student body than the announcement of Prof. Franklin's resignation. A position difficult to fill in the personnel of the faculty was the unanimous opinion of those who had come under the influence of his striking personality.

To recount the results of the Founder's Day Sports is to drive home to the Sophomore Class the responsibility which it failed to meet. With frequent demonstrations of its ability to meet difficult obstacles and pass them in this one supreme test it failed. Individuals whose lives have been successful have done the same. It is no discredit to the Sophs for the new men showed superior ability. Efforts which tended to smooth the defeat by means of stricter regulation of Freshmen rules failed to meet the approval of the undergraduates.

To review the football and baseball seasons from the standpoint of the Lafayette Games is not to revel in the worship of the God of Success. Twice did the Eastonians taste the nectar of victory. The revenge for past defeats was sweet. When all else fails the poet gives his word of consolation. This time the soldier seeks his bubble reputation in the cannon's mouth. At the big game was a revelation of what college spirit at Lehigh stands for.

On the morning of the game twenty-one thousand dollars was pledged for the completion of the Taylor Stadium which one of the Philadelphia papers has described as looking "like a man with only one side of his face shaved."

But Lehigh stood during the year for other things. Her expansion was not enclosed behind the high walls of the athletic field.

Lehigh's youngest course, that of Business Administration, took marked strides, for there is a science of business which has led to the introduction of several new subjects into the curriculum of the Course which this year celebrated its fifth birthday. With one instructor and four students as a beginning, this year found the Little Colonel with four captains and seventy-two privates. It has not been necessary to resort to conscription.

Price Hall

The evening school conducted under the direction of the Department of Education has been enlarged and is rendering a greater service to the community than in previous years. Here students as instructors assist in the difficult task of making good citizens out of the raw material which enters our country from foreign lands. A reception given by the ladies of the Moravian Female Seminary who are engaged in a similar work among the women immigrants, to the Lehigh "instructors" marked a new era in the relations between the institutions. "It was the first time," said one "that a Lehigh man has been privileged to enter that sacred hall."

A marked advance towards the presentation of Lehigh's claims was the formation of several local Lehigh Clubs. So successful have been the Maryland and New Jersey Clubs that counties took up the scheme. During the year the York and Berks County Clubs sprung into existence. With the Ohio and Canada Clubs these small groups of men aim at the creation of a closer relation between Lehigh men and the advancement of Alma Mater's interests in their respective communities. The Mercersburg and Harrisburg men also showed a deeper interest in Lehigh's claims to larger representations from their preparatory schools.

In a truer social sense there have been decided steps toward a more democratic atmosphere. University and Dormitory Dances have been patronized admirably by students and faculty. Thursday night was instituted as "Faculty Night" at which time Drown Hall is thrown open to the use of the faculty members, their wives and families. Again the St. Paul's Society, an organization of Episcopalians who are students at the University, was a venture into a new field. This society has had among its speakers men of wide church experience as well as prominent men of affairs.

The Dormitory System which began with Taylor Hall has led to a centralization of the College Community. During the year two fraternities moved into their new homes on the Campus, the Sigma Nu and Alpha Tau Omega. Incidentally it may be noted that the name of the "Die Alte Brauerei" famed for its glorious history was changed to Price Hall—a tribute to Henry R. Price, '70, whose interests in the welfare of his Alma Mater has been less conspicuous only because he has chosen not to grant too much publicity to his many deeds for the betterment of the University life.

There are many incidents in the life of the current year which would be too tedious and trivial to recount. When one turns to Lehigh's intercollegiate associations he finds them in athletics and the Y. M. C. A. But during the existence of the summer training camps Lehigh has always had a large representation, a feature of intercollegiate life not to be overlooked.

THE Mustard and Cheese Dramatic Club presented, as its thirty-first annual production, the four act comedy "Father and the Boys." The play was written by George Ade and produced under the direction of J. E. Gheen.

The play was first presented April 24th at the Grand Opera House. In spite of the fact that the catchy music and captivating capers of the pretty chorus girls were absent the production was pronounced a success by the Junior Week audience. The second performance was given during commencement week.

The second annual variety vaudeville show which was presented under the direction of the Mustard and Cheese Club again proved to be quite a success. It brought to light some of the undiscovered talent in our midst which gives to a good spring show.

When I Was A Freshman

Air—"When You Were a Tulip"

I met you down at Lehigh in that good old college town
You tried to throw me down,
You often made me frown.
I met you up in Packer Hall
As Snotty Lambert's aid;
'Twas there you started all my misery.
But now tonight it's different,
I've won the victory—
You sure can bet
I'll ne'er forget
The things you did to me.

When I was a Freshman, a poor little Freshman,
And you were the thing in math.
In class you'd taunt me,
At night you would haunt me,
That was when you roused my wrath.
My name is Stephen,
A chance to get even
Has come, which I'll take with glee.
You will be sorry you bored me,
Were nasty toward me,
When you were the big thing in Math.

H. W. PORTER, E. E., '12.

Was It!

Air—"On the A. L."

Talk about your problems, talk about your hell,
Talk about your poor math. marks as well.
But when you're living in this College Life
You have got to stand up to Thornburg's knife.
You feel the thrust of those "No P's,"
You test your skill at a dozen "Rees,"
Then you repeat the process for a few more years
Till your hair gets down in around your ears.

Cart away those math. books, take the Profs. as well,
Dump them in the river, we won't tell.
Take "Googy" and "Snotty" and lanky Jack,
And fix them so they will never come back.
Knobelman's leaving for a place below
Where the red devil's dance and the fires ever glow.
Tie "Thorny" to an engine and put Aldrich on the track,
Blow the whistle, ring the bell and they'll ne'er come back.

(CHORUS:

Oh, our Math. is o'er. Gee! were feeling happy;
Now poor Thorny's sore, probation days are by.
Here's a health to all! Come on make it snappy!
Now we are off for the old sea shore.

S. JOHNSTON, '16.

Oh! Calculus

AIR -- "I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier."

Ten million curses on you, Calculus,
You have sure been one grand, sweet "jinx,"
For two long years we've suffered you
Till you've put our brains in kinks.
Now you're in our clutches
And we'll deal with you
As you dealt with us in days of old.

CHORUS:

Oh! Calculus, you sure have made life dreary,
But now, Ha! Ha! Revenge it shall be ours;
You certainly will suffer for that "jitney,"
And o'er your grave we'll sing of "Hearts and Flowers,"
No more we'll knuckle down to "Snot" or "Googy,"
To "Lazy Jack" or "Dutch" or Knebelman,
We're thro with that old crew
And damned Calculus too,
Now you can burn and stay in Hell forever.

We met you first when Freshmen, young and green,
But it didn't take long to see
If we intended here to stay
It rested all with thee;
The most of us you kicked out,
Flunked us by the score,
With E's and F's you showed your wicked power.

S. SAVADKIN, '17.

Good Bye Math I'm Through

AIR -- "Good-bye Girls, I'm Through."

I'm the happiest lad in all this flowery kingdom,
A miracle has come to pass, me thinks
I've passed the Math. for all my fear
And enter now my Junior year,
With hopes that I have finished with this jinx.
Of course I've wandered in this path of flowers
Where Calculus is found on every vine.
Like other chaps I've wasted many hours
But now I'm glad I never spent more time.
And so I say without a sigh
To the Math. I've passed in the days gone by:

CHORUS:

Good bye Math., I'm through,
Each quiz that I have passed,
I said good-bye to you,
And hoped you were the last.
You've no more fascination
You're doomed at this Cremation;
Soloist (Good-bye Math.) . . . Good-bye Math.,
Good-bye Math., I'm through.

1915 FOOTBALL TEAM

CAPTAIN, A. A. TATE

CAPTAIN Tate played a consistent game throughout the season fighting hard always in endeavor to lead Lehigh to victory.

His height and weight made him a worthy opponent for any man and this combined with his aggressiveness suggests a leader worthy of a Lehigh team. He could always be depended upon to make a hole when his signal was called. He played equally as well on the defense, never letting the ball advance through his position.

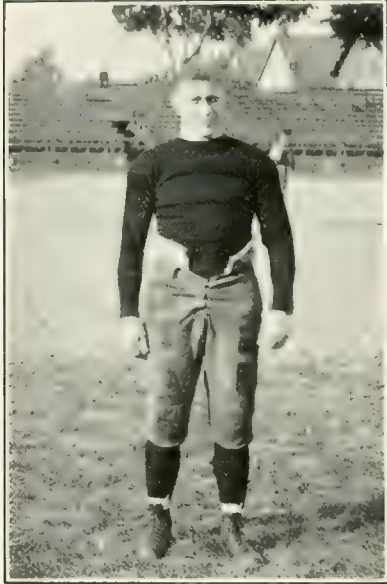

Captain Tate will be with us next year and will be a valuable asset to the 1916 team.

When a man gives all he has to his college what more could be asked? Louis is small but his energy and spirit are not in proportion to his size. A Lehigh team has never had a more conscientious manager than Louis. The schedule was exceptionally good resulting in a financially successful season.

Our visitors never had cause to complain of the treatment accorded to them by Louis and his assistants; in fact, many were the expressions of gratitude for the many kindnesses extended by the manager.

MANAGER, L. G. MUDGE

CAHALL

Cahall at half-back lived up to his reputation that he gained in 1914. His clever open field running as well as his forward passing would be hard to excel. As a drop-kicker he remained a peer among the best of the country, and his long, well placed punts always kept the team out of danger. Billy started the season as half-back, but following the injury of Chenoweth, in the Yale game, he was moved into the quarterback position where he finished the season. The fact that Billy played both positions well made him a valuable unit in the 'varsity machine. This was Billy's last year of foot ball at Lehigh and it is needless to say that his position will be one hard to fill.

GREEN

Freddie showed his usual consistent form throughout the whole season. His wonderful intuition and remarkable ability to be at the right place at the right time made him a stone wall on the offence. On the defense his work was equally as good. His splendid interference linked with his ability to handle forward passes made him responsible for many long gains. This is Freddie's last year and some of his exploits on the athletic field will never be duplicated. Freddie played a clean cut game against all opponents, his actions always demonstrating him as a gentleman athlete.

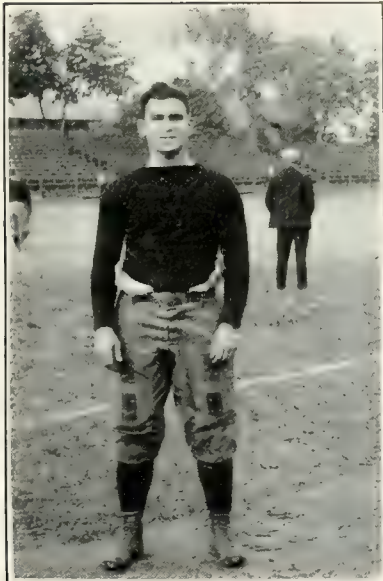

SAWTELLE

"Sawt" at end played a sensational game. Full of ginger,—not lacking speed,—always following the ball, George well earned his mention as an All-American end.

In the Yale game both drop kicks followed a series of passes to Sawt. Again in the Lafayette game, Sawt., after making a big gain from an intercepted pass, followed it with another long gain from a forward pass, both of which were instrumental in Lehigh's touchdown.

In the W. & J. game, the field goal followed two passes to Sawt. which netted some fifty yards. Sawt.'s record in four years was but two missed passes.

His defensive work was equally good so that he leaves Lehigh with a record seldom equalled.

SCRUGGS

"Stewie" played hard until the whistle blew and his opponent ever had reason to realize that Scruggs was in the game. Few there were who could stop him and his alertness resulted in many plays being broken up before the opponents had fairly started them. His passing was superb.

A pivot of strength, his work at center was beyond reproach and when we realize that "Stewie's" wrist was injured during the whole season, too much credit cannot be given him. His dominating confidence was an asset to the team and his executing it was an example well set.

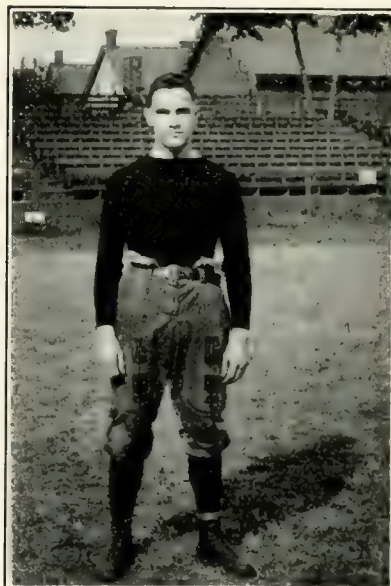

GRUMBACK

Owing to faculty restrictions Lou was unable to report until the season was well under way. When the ban was taken off Lou came out and was soon playing on the 'varsity. His height and strength made him a terror to the opposing line. It was next to impossible to get a play through "Grummy" and it never took the opposing team long to discover this. He is another man whose absence will be deeply felt when the call for candidates is made next season.

A strong man with an ability to reason at the right time is valuable always, and such a man is Louis.

RICHARDS

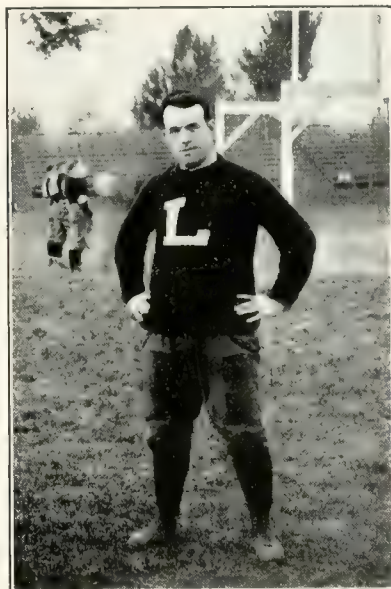

"Al," our featherweight tackle, with his grit, determination and aggressiveness cannot be praised too highly. Always lighter than the man he opposed, "Al" could ever be relied on to outplay him. He would fight from the opening whistle to the closing whistle of every game. "Al" was one of the surest and most consistent tacklers on the field. He can justly boast of having starred in every game of the season. He has another year.

KEADY

Keady's past year was his last of college foot ball. While his playing has not been sensationai it has been consistent, the kind that means the most. We could always depend on Jim to play hard and give the team everything he had. In spite of the fact that he was the heaviest man in the back field, he was also the fastest.

Jim on the field was a tower of strength, but no more kindly spirit could be imagined than James when he got back with the boys.

OSTROM

George at guard was a worthy partner for Grumbach and Pons. Heavy but fast, he was in every play fighting with the determination that brings victory. His defense was equally as fine as his offensive work so little more need be said. George played in best form in the Lafayette game, when his pluck and spirit did much to stem the tide of defeat. His playing was consistent throughout the season.

CHENOWETH

"Chenny's" generalship was superb, the team working as one man under his guidance. His ability to do the right thing at the right time not only inspired full confidence but kept the team marching down the field. His forward passes were fine, resulting in long gains especially in the Yale game. In this game "Chenny" suffered a broken leg and a game and plucky leader was lost to Lehigh; a loss felt greatly throughout the remainder of the season. His snap and "gyp" in every play always kept the team in a fighting spirit. Our only consolation lies in the fact that "Chenny" has another year to wear the brown and white togs.

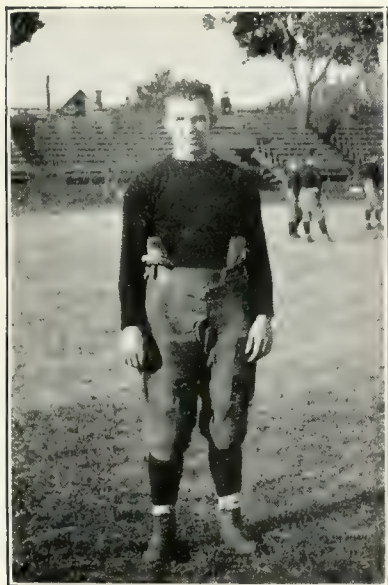

HALSTEAD

"Ty" started his second year of college foot ball in fine shape; there was nothing that could stop him. He was very unfortunate in obtaining a severe ankle injury early in the season which handicapped him seriously. "Ty" would never say die and in spite of his bad ankle he played in nearly every game. "Ty" was a wonderful line-bucker and could always be depended upon to make a gain of several yards. On the defense he showed just as much fight and would never leave a game unless he was carried off the field.

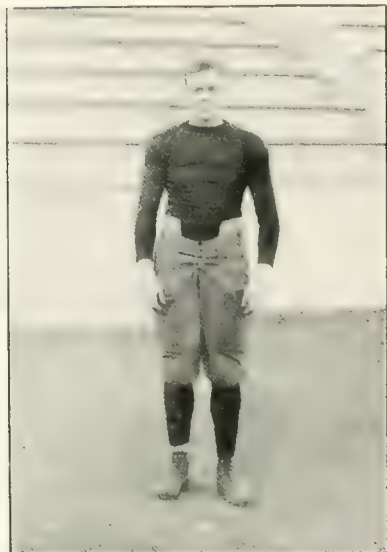

MAGINNES

"Mac" surely demonstrated what the fighting spirit will do. At full-back he was like a battering ram, that no team could stop. When a few yards were needed, "Mac" could ever be depended upon to produce often adding several more for good measure. Injuries kept him on the side lines part of the season but when he did get into the fray, his speed was exceptional. "Mac" has two more years at Lehigh and if his playing improves as it already has, there will be another candidate for All-American honors.

HEUER

Heuer was a new man this year, arriving by the Philadelphia route. His ability to follow plays will make Dick a valuable man next year. As a substitute half-back he early showed the characteristics of a good offensive and defensive back. At times spectacular, but generally conducting himself with cool determination, he would gain the goal for which he strained every muscle. Good 'varsity material kept Heuer from playing in more of the games.

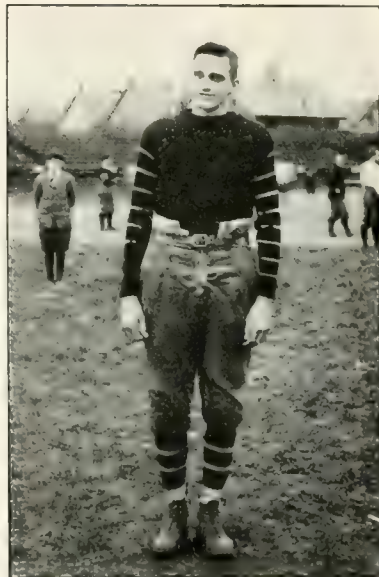

CRAWFORD

Crawford played in but a few games this past season but in these his ability as a full-back was well demonstrated. Lack of condition kept him out of the earlier games. To Crawford goes the honor of being the only Lehigh player to score against Lafayette. George has another year and we have every reason to expect a great deal from him next season.

BIGELOW

Bigelow as substitute end promised much with some more college experience. With Sawtelle and Green at ends, his chances were few but when in the game he made good use of them. Seldom has better work been seen than the clever playing of Bigelow in the State game. He was rather light for the position but his speed and judgment counterbalanced this deficiency. Bigelow will be with the team next Fall.

HALLOWELL

"Dicky" showed a lot of promise as a quarter back this season. At only a year and a half work on the defense is all he can be asked. His end running as well as his choice of plays and snap in getting them off was a feature. With the experience he has gained during the past year we look for great things from "Dicky" next season.

PONS

All that needs be told of "Nick" is his weight and it will be readily seen that very few plays went through him. Though he weighed 258 pounds he was by no means slow in getting into a play. It was a common sight to see "Nick's" big form through the opponents' line before anybody else. His defensive playing was just as strong for he could always counted on to take two men out of a play instead of one. "Nick" is a Junior.

FOOTBALL

Season of 1915

When the first call for football candidates was made in the Fall there were thirteen "L" men among those who answered. The prospects for a good season were the brightest that Lehigh will see in some time. In spite of some misfortunes during the season, counting among them our defeat at the hands of our worthy and time honored rivals, Lafayette, the season may be counted partially successful.

The schedule was opened with a victory over Ursinus by a score of 20-0. This game gave us a good idea of the ability of our team. The next week we met the Indians and repeated our performance of the previous season. The men from Carlisle fought hard but found it impossible to score.

Our team then journeyed to New Haven where they played the best game of the season. Though the score does not show it the game will always be remembered as a victory in the minds of those who saw it. Lehigh outplayed Yale in every stage of the game. It was in this game that Lehigh received its hardest blow when our plucky little general,

"Chenny," was carried from the field with a broken leg.

In spite of our defeat at the hands of Yale the team came back and on the following week defeated Albright by a 27-0 score. Muhlenberg was the next team in order that met defeat. The Allentown men usually give us quite a scare but nothing more. The game, though marred by the careless playing of both teams, was interesting and hard fought. The final score was 20-0. The next game proved an easy victory for Lehigh. The Gettysburg eleven was completely swamped by a score of 30-0.

The history of the team from this point on is one hard to relate. It traveled far into the wilds of Pennsylvania to State College where it was defeated by seven points. The playing of our team during the first half of that game was the poorest of the season the only redeeming feature being the wonderful work of Sawtelle. In the second half Lehigh came back and showed its "never-say-die" spirit. They fought their way down the field, time after time, to within a hair of Penn State's goal line only to lose the ball each time. The game ended before Lehigh was able to score.

Our next game, with Lebanon Valley, was one very closely contested. It was only through the clever drop-kicking of "Billy" Cahall that Lehigh managed to come on top with a score of 30-9.

The Lafayette game was another of those victories which newspapers had completely planned, but to no avail. Concerning the game The Lafayette said:

"The football prophet lost the last remnant of his reputation last Saturday when Johnny Wellen forward passed Lafayette to a 35 to 6 victory over Lehigh's veteran eleven on Taylor field, administering to the South Bethlehem aggregation the worst beating it has received at the hands of a Lafayette team since 1906.

Practically every paper in the country had picked Lehigh to win, and the Brown and White was a two-to-one favorite in the betting. Confidence reigned supreme throughout the Bethlehem institution, and even after Mummert in the first five minutes of play picked up Cahall's fumble and ran twenty yards for Lafayette's first touchdown the Lehigh rooters expected their experienced eleven to overcome the lead and capture the game.

Scarcely recovering from this jolt the team journeyed to Washington, Penna., to be defeated by the W. and J. eleven, 27 to 3. The game was played in a sea of mud.

The season was a success and it was not. To judge from the outcome of the big game it was not.

Early Days of Football at Lehigh

My position as spectator was not back of the ropes but behind the rush line to the right of the quarter, where I had an uninterrupted view of the field and absolute leisure, as the captain, though he did not know much, had at least sufficient judgment to always pass the ball to the other half, and I never got it by any chance unless he fumbled it and some one else did not fall on it first. And as our side never got the ball except on those chances regulated by the beneficent fourth down rule I had plenty of time to study the game and to count the stripes on my jersey and try to keep up with the other side's score. It was not difficult to keep tally of our own.

J. S. Robeson, '86, is the father of football at Lehigh. He had played at the Germantown Academy and it was due to him that it was taken up in South Bethlehem. It was he who induced the Sophomores of the University of Pennsylvania to send their eleven up to play an eleven of '86 on Dec. 8, 1883, and it was he who captained the 'varsity team the following year. The game with the '86 eleven of the U. of P. was the first game played at Lehigh, and though it was raining at the time, and the grounds were covered with eight inches of mud, over 300 spectators came out to see it played and stood through it till the end, which was a victory for the visitors by a score of 16-0. There was no grass on the athletic grounds then, nothing but rocks, tin cans and a soft quicksand of mud. As the Lehigh Sophomore team had never played before, their jackets were as white as when they came from Geisenderfer's shop, where they had been patterned after the only one in the college, one owned by Robeson, and of which we were all very envious. Some of the team had taken their jackets out in the back yard and rubbed them in the dirt in order to give them the appearance of veterans, but the mud of that first game changed them in five minutes into as creditable looking garments as any worn by a Yale captain at the end of the season. It was so muddy that the players' feet actually became fast in it, and "Bish" Howe, who now edits the Youth's Companion, the other half-back, called pathetically every few minutes, "Don't pass that ball to me, Jake, I am stuck in the mud and I can't get out." Dashiell and Rafferty were undoubtedly the strongest men that Lehigh has given to football, and although Warriner, Walker, Hutchinson and Porter were strong players and did much for the game, these two were sensational players and ranked with the "stars" of Yale and Princeton. Rafferty was a man who if he knew what pain was, rather enjoyed it as a sensation than otherwise, and for brute force and endurance was Cowan of Princeton's equal. I remember once when he broke his collar bone, he refused to leave the field and stood at the ropes watching the game. He stopped training far enough to smoke a cigar, the ashes of which he knocked off nonchalantly on the end of the broken bone where it protruded through his jersey.

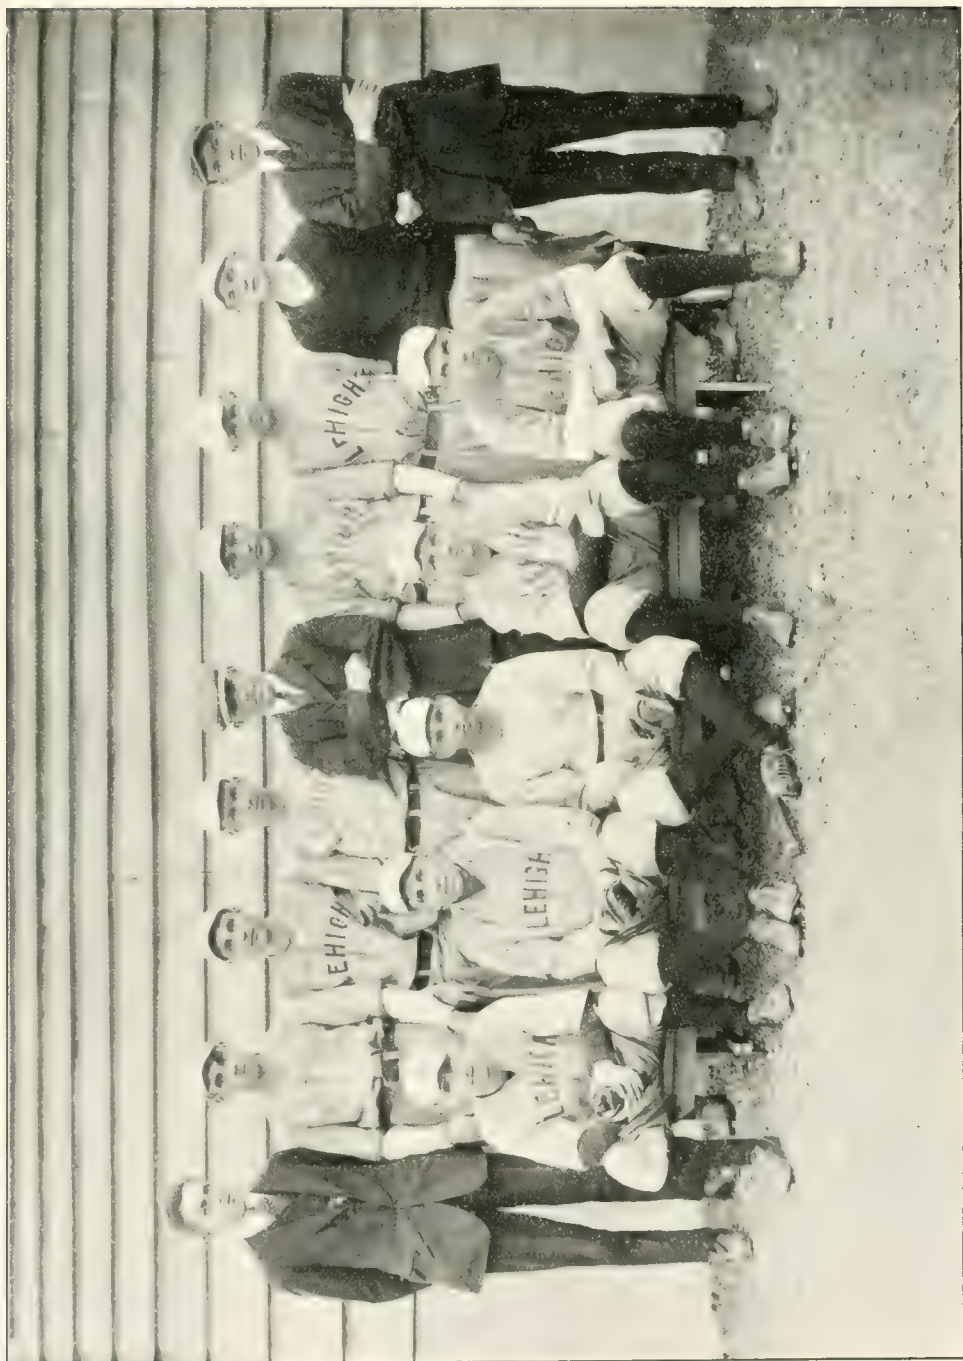

Before leaving the old days I want to recall the fact that it was at Lehigh that the V trick was first attempted. It was invented by Jake Robeson, and first tried against Pennsylvania with the success which now always accompanies it. Walter Camp, the Yale coach, always credits Lehigh with this trick when he writes. I cannot speak for Max, but I can for the other, and I assure the editor of THE BUREAU that Conway Maur Davis takes a keener satisfaction in the fact that he scored the first touchdown for Lehigh than in all the verses or short stories he has ever written.

RICHARD HARDING DAVIS.

Review of the Season

CAPTAIN-ELECT, FISHBURN

The 1915 season opened with the usual Spring trip to the South but inclement weather permitted but one game and that though very close, was lost to Catholic University, 4-3. Anderson was injured in this game but recovered rapidly.

Arriving home, Syracuse, Hamilton, Seton Hall, Crescent, Washington & Jefferson, and Villa Nova were defeated in consecutive order, and then came the game with one of the strongest teams in the East,—West Point. Lehigh played splendid ball but the soldiers won, 2-0. Returning home, another string of victories was registered, the following being the victims: Gettysburg, Muhlenberg, Ursinus, Lebanon Valley and Dickinson.

And then came Lafayette, on May 15th. The first game of the series was a thriller but the Brown and White team bowed to defeat by the score 1-3.

The second game of the series began at Lafayette on May 22nd, but at the end of four innings with Lehigh several runs in the lead, a heavy storm broke and the game was called until the following week.

On May 29th Lehigh again went to Lafayette. Anderson was in splendid form, allowing seven hits but tightening up in the pinches. Lehigh won the game, scoring eight runs and registering twelve hits.

Each team had won a game and the interest was keen when the final game was played on Taylor Field during Senior Week. Lafayette won the game and the series.

The final game of the season resulted in the defeat of the strong Chinese University team by the decisive score, 11-3.

During the season Lehigh won thirteen games and lost five. It was unfortunate that two of these went to Lafayette, but on the whole it was a satisfactory season.

CAPT.-ELECT GREEN

The 1915 Lacrosse team had a successful season although it did not succeed in bringing a championship to Lehigh. The opportunity for this was eliminated when Johns Hopkins University defeated the 'varsity by the score 5-4.

The Cornell game was desperately contested and resulted in a 1 to 1 tie. Stevens, Penn State and Swarthmore then followed, each being easily defeated by the Brown and White. The next game, with Johns Hopkins, was the deciding game of the League and Lehigh was defeated.

The Indians were then taken into camp and the University of Pennsylvania defeated. On the 15th of May, Lehigh travelled to Brooklyn to play the last game of the season. The Crescent A. C. administered the second defeat.

Basket Ball

Season of 1915-1916

There was a noticeable scarcity of new material at the beginning of the season, but this was more than overbalanced by the return of most of last year's team—namely Capt. Green, Crichton, Dynan, Kirkpatrick and Brewster. The schedule they faced was one of the hardest in years—but they went to work determined to win at least a majority of the games—which they did.

The most noticeable achievements of the team were the defeating of Swarthmore and University of Pittsburgh. Swarthmore was beaten in the last minute of the most exciting game seen in Taylor Gym by the score of 22-21. It must be remembered that Princeton was the only other team to defeat Swarthmore. Pittsburgh suffered their only defeat of the season at our hands by the decisive score of 38-21.

Lehigh lost but one game on her home floor and that was the last one to Penn State. The team had varied success on its trips; the games lost being hard fought and conspicuous on account of the low scoring. Rochester, Army, Union, State and Pittsburgh beat Lehigh on their home floors, but the games were always in doubt until the final whistle blew. The Rochester defeat was avenged on our court—it being Rochester's initial appearance on a Lehigh floor, 25-24.

Muhlenberg, Niagara University, Clarkson Tech., Lafayette, Ursinus, Temple, Carnegie Tech. and Marietta College were among the other teams defeated.

Brewster, by shooting 17 out of 18 fouls in the Marietta game, established an intercollegiate record for this year of which we have no knowledge of its being equalled or surpassed.

With Captain-elect Crichton, Dynan, Ketcham, Thomas, and several promising subs, the outlook for next year is exceedingly good.

Review of 1916 Season

COACH SHERIDAN

The 1916 Wrestling Season while not a brilliant success was a most creditable one. The loss of Sawtelle, Thomas and Good, all Intercollegiate winners of the past season, was a blow to stun any team. With optimism, which ever characterizes him, Coach "Billy" Sheridan worked harder than ever and with practically a whole new team, three distinct victories were registered, Mass. Inst. of Tech., Springfield Y. M. C. A., and the U. of Pittsburgh being the victims.

The N. Y. A. C. administered the first defeat after a contest full of thrills and splendid wrestling. Penn State next scored a victory from the Yammigan Team and finally Cornell inflicted the overwhelming defeat, 21-0.

The Intercollegiate Championships were held at Princeton and Cornell was again the winner, with Princeton second and Lehigh third. C. A. Hiss, after several splendid exhibitions of wrestling in the semi-finals, was awarded the Championship in the 135 pound class, while McCullough, with but a week's training, secured second place in the 125 lb. class. The other men had to be content with third prizes. The Team scored twelve points, being two points behind Princeton and one point ahead of the U. of Penna. contingent.

Soccer, 1915-1916

It was in the Fall of 1913 that there was organized at Lehigh a Soccer Association with Prof. Percy Hughes as its president. No regular schedule was arranged for that year but a number of practice games were played. The next year with Henderson, '17, as Captain, the team played a number of independent games with Lafayette netted the Eastonians two victories. The third was a tie.

This year Soccer was recognized as a minor sport which added more interest to the playing of that game. Entering two leagues the Lehigh team did good work. The results of the training received in two seasons were easily apparent. Our opponents for the most part were seasoned players in which lay a great source of gain as to observation and perfection in the finer points of the game.

Four victories, two ties and two defeats, tells the tale of the Brown and White Soccer team's success for the past season. Lehigh this year was represented in two leagues, the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate League and the Wilbur Cup Elimination Contest.

A triple tie, was the result in the first of these, first honor being divided among Pennsylvania Lafayette and Lehigh. Allentown Y. M. C. A. blasted our hopes for capturing the Wilbur Cup.

The strong contingent from Penn State was our first opponent. We met the enemy on their own field, but neither team could show its superiority so far as goals were concerned. Two goals per team was the result. Lehigh next invaded Saucon Cross Roads territory and a one to one tie, was the outcome. Our final attack on foreign soil before the first home game was made on the field of our ancient rival Lafayette. Lehigh's best efforts were overbalanced by one goal for the Maroon and White.

A fast aggregation from Haverford next opposed us, this time on Taylor field. Little trouble was found in trouncing them to the tune of five goals to none. Pennsylvania followed as our opponents on the home field. In this, doubtless the fastest and most strenuous game of the season, Lehigh brought home the bacon by a 3 to 2 score.

The Reading Field Club, well known for its excellent teams in previous seasons, journeyed to South Bethlehem and met defeat with one lone goal as over against our nine. This game was an example of excellent teamwork on the part of the Lehigh men and netted them their most decisive victory.

We met Lafayette, for the second game, this time on familiar soil. The best our rivals, from down the river could do, was one goal as over against three registered to our credit.

Until the game with the Allentown Y. M. C. A., Lehigh's hopes for the Wilbur Cup were high. By a score of three goals to one the Brown and White was put out of the running.

On the 18th of March, Lafayette was eliminated from the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Championship race by a 2 to 0 victory for Lehigh. U. of P. was then faced for the Championship and won 3 goals to 1.

GAGS

We wish to acknowledge the receipt of two stubs for chair seats to the show at the Grand Opera House and miscellaneous collection of scrap paper in the "Gag Box." THE EDITORS.

ALLENTOWN POSTER.

"Biederwolf on the whiskey jug."

Let us hope that he gets off it some time.

DESCRIPTIVE.

"Wellingtons" the little things that stick out on the side of a man's face like the sweepers on a snow plow.

Referring to those asinine furry projections on your upper lip, George, doesn't your girl use a tooth brush any more?

If a Jewesh married an Irishman would the children be jew 'Sharps?

NEW FROSH—Where can I find the Commons?

SENIOR—Follow your nose.

Why does Clarence carry his tail like a question mark?

You'll have to see for yourself.

EXTRA—Germans invading South Bethlehem with an epidemic of German measles.

Through a cloud of asphyxiating gases the Germans took to the allays of South Bethlehem.

STEVE—"Speaking of war scares I heard that an Irish battleship sailed through Bethlehem this morning."

JACK—"Is that so, how is that?"

STEVE—"A canal-boat full of bricks."

"Eventually, why not now." ADV.

1917 EPITOME 1917

Some men were born to be soldiers,
 The Irish were made to be cops,
 Limburger was made for the Germans, and
 Spaghetti was made for the wops.

The fish were made for the water,
 The bums were made to drink booze,
 The banks were made to hold money,
 And money was made for the Jews. POSS, '17.

As exactitude and conciseness is demanded we would suggest that the course named "English Literature" be changed to "English Litter."

It is well to aim high but success comes most often to him who aims straight.—JUDGE.

It is said up at State that all the dances are masked balls.
 "Oh, you fair co-ed."

A "RAIL BIRD."

I'm weary of shoe leather steak,
 I'm tired of liver and bacon,
 I sicken of beans, of soups, bones and greens,
 My love for bread puddings is shaken.
 I long for roast turkey and duck,
 And sweetbreads and every such thing,
 But for all protestation and loud lamentation,
 It's Shanley's still to the "King."

JONESIE—Say this prize fighting is getting to be quite some game, isn't it?
 WOP—Yea, and Baltimore has produced more fighters than any state in the union, hasn't it?

"FRANKS"

Professor of ancient languages excavating in a dish of potatoes at dinner at the Commons—"Say, this reminds me of the ruins of Pompeii."

ON THE TELEPHONE.

PROF. LUCH—"This is Luch."
 DR. DRINKER—"Luch? Luch?"
 PROF. LUCH—"Yes, Professor Luch."
 DR. DRINKER—"At what college do you teach, Professor Luch?"
 PROF. LUCH—"Why at Lehigh."
 DR. DRINKER—"At Lehigh, let me see, are you one of the new instructors?"

HEARD IN MET.

PROF. RICHARDS—"You know, gentlemen, I evolved this problem between eleven and twelve last evening."
 Voice from the ethereal regions at the rear—"Aw, why weren't you asleep?"

1917 EPILOGUE 1917

ENGINEERS.

Physics Prof, explaining the function of a relay: "Now this bit of rubber here is to provide insulation between the armature and the set screw."

FROSH: "Oh, I thought it was to keep the screw from hurting the poor little armature."

SO SAY WE ALL.

In the bright illumined parlor
Sat the lovers tete-a-tete,
In their happiness unmindful
That the hour was growing late.

All at once upon the staircase,
Sounded papa's slippered feet;
She was startled, he expected
To be thrown into the street.

In walked papa, turned the gas out,
Thinking to cut short their pranks,
In one voice the two made answer
Briefly:—all they said was thanks. Ex.

HE: "There goes the most honest girl in the world."

SHE: "How's that?"

HE: "She won't even take a kiss without returning it." Ex.

SHOULDERS.

"They're made to bear,
So all men think,
Our burdens; hence they're broad and stout."
"Nay," women say, "without a doubt,
Since they're soft and pink,
They're made to bare. BURR.

MAYBE.

A man driving a Ford, so they say, was driving between Allentown and South Bethlehem at a speed of thirty three miles an hour.

When on the outskirts of Allentown he was arrested and brought into court. The officer upon being asked the specific charge against the prisoner quickly answered,

"Rushing the car."

1917 EPITOME 1917

Speaking of inventors of labor saving devices, what do you think of a European count who marries the daughter of a Chicago packer?

STUE: "It would take volumes to tell of my love affairs."

STEWED: "Yes, and all bound in calf."

RUDE: "I heered yer son Hiram has goed away to college."

SI: "Yas, and when he finishes that course in pharmistry, I suppose he'll have all kinds of new fangled ways of rummin' this yer ranch."

SUNDAY 1 P. M.

Sweet voice on the telephone: "Is Mr. Gra— in there?"

NET: "No, he hasn't gone to bed last night yet."

A LONG TAIL.

THE LAWYER: So the defendant turned and whistled to the dog, eh? what followed?

THE WITNESS—The dog.—Ex.

JUNIOR: How do you make your top spin?

SENIOR: Simple. Just let someone string you along a bit, then come to the point.

1918's lack of pep during the horseing season is only another sign that we are living in a horseless age. TIGER.

Speaking of "preparedness," why not invest in a couple of Doc. Wyhe's gas cannons and practice shooting corks at the Dutchmen across the street.

Oh, my, yes!

The wages of gin is breath.—Ex.

CONFESSION.

FIRST Co-ED.—I kissed Bob last night.

SECOND CHICKEN: Is that right?

FIRST SQUAB: No, but it's so. EX.

SGTH: Where do you hang out, old sport?

SENIOR: Do I look like a laundry? EX.

STUDENT, to waiter tendering him a plate with several ants in a marathon around the edge—"Take this back to the gate keeper; these fellows don't belong in a cemetery."

ARNOLD—"Yes, that is a garter snake."

MINNIE (innocently)—"Why, it's much too small."—Ex.

Why not use "New Skin to fix up those cuts?

Why do you call that new cigar the "Salome"?

Because its wrapper is missing.

"A heavenly job."

(1917 E P I T O M E 1917)

HENRY—“I’m going to cultivate my voice.”

JAKE—“Why don’t you wash your neck and save the expense!”

FRESHMAN—My ears are cold.

SOPHOMORE—I told you not to wash them that time last week.

PROF. (to co-ed reciting in geometry)
Miss Smith, you have a very poor figure.

CO-ED.—Mind your own business.—EX.

Prof. Stewart says “One inch to a shirt tail means millions to a cotton manufacturer.”

We bet they hate the man who invented union suits.

WHAT WAS IT?

Time—end of first act Scene O:pheum.

HE—I hear a fire alarm. I must go out and see about it.

He returns in five minutes and says,—It was not a fire.

SHE—Neither was it water. BERR.

COACH—He was scratch in his heat.

CAPTAIN—What was his heat?

COACH—Prickly heat.

SHE—Could you love a girl if she was as pretty as a picture?

HE—If she had a good frame.

LEHIGH—And now Mr. S— that I have asked for the hand of your daughter, I suppose you would like to know my business?

ALLENTOWN—Hub, hot air merchant.

‘18—Is hydraulics hard?

‘17—Only when the thermometer is below 32.

ARCHIBALD—What do you use two pillows for?

TEDDY—Why I put one in the middle of the bed to fill up the hole.

ARCHIBALD—Do you sleep on it?

The pliers, boys, he’s got a nail in his toe.

‘17—What’s the hydraulics for tomorrow?

‘16—Watered stock.

JUDGE—Did you ever do any real work?

PROF. THORNBURG—Yep, I’m chief audience at the movies.

We wonder if the Physics Dept. had Nick in mind when they figured on a 5000 lb. baby for that problem in Freshman Physics?

MAYBE

Say, were you born in America?

No, in Allentown.

Lehigh Valley Railroad

WHAT more intimately associated with your college career than the Railroad ?

As a freshman, full of anticipation, you stepped aboard the waiting train and entered upon the active stage of life's journey. Each vacation, suitcase in hand, with your new made friends you eagerly watched for the train to take you home. And again the Railroad brought you back, refreshed to your work and play in college. When a senior and a graduate you take your last trip, perhaps for many years. But at reunion times you'll know the Railroad will be there to carry you back and forth, until perhaps but few of your classmates will be there to greet you.

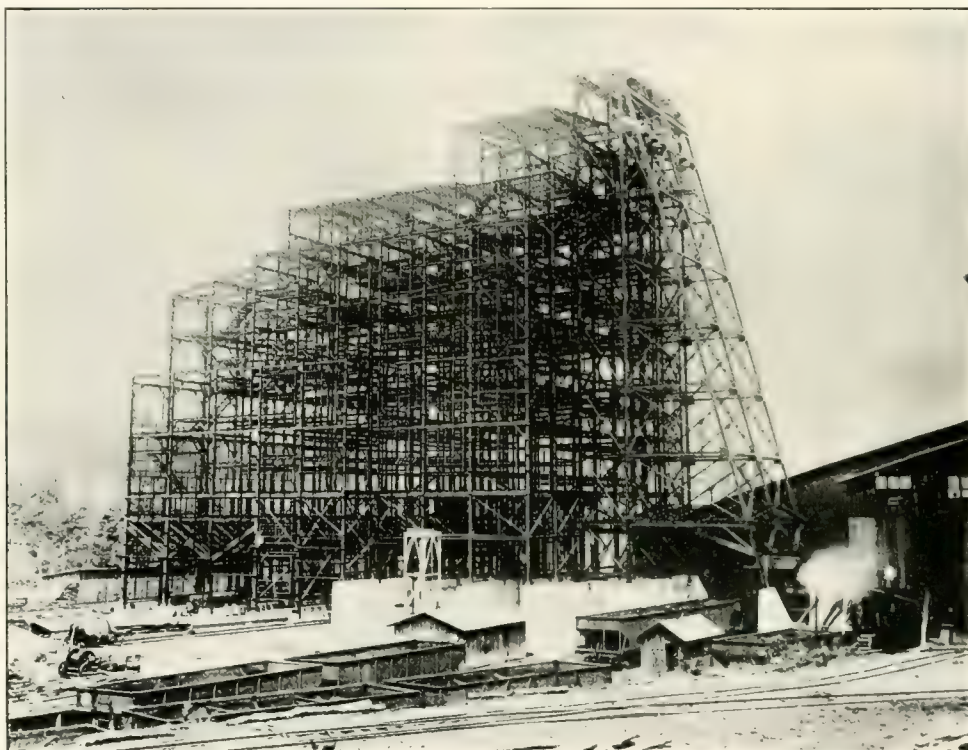

For like a college, a Railroad is both old and young—old in years, but constantly made young by each succeeding generation.

To possess either you must work for them. First acquire the health and the wealth will come easier.

We have solved the problem with our long years of experience in the athletic line, how to make exercise a pleasure.

A perusal of our Catalogue will testify to this, and give you the desire to get out in the open and play. The Catalogue is yours for the asking. It shows pictures and prices of the many different articles manufactured by us to make physical exercise a pleasure.
